Mobile home law changes recommended

The Planning and Zoning Commission recommended changes in the city mobile home regulations Tuesday night and suggested that recreational vehicles be required to abide by home setback requirements.

The commission tabled a proposal to create a new zoning classification called B two-family mobile home.

MOBILE HOMES

The commission recommended that skirting around mobile homes be of manufactured material designed for that purpose or of material equal to or exceeding such a material.

Commissioners saidthey want something attractive, windproof and rodent proof.

The commission recommended that mobile home owners be given a choice of foundations — either concrete strips, six inches thick and 18 inches wide with concrete blocks or poured concrete supports under the length of the supporting beams or individual piers extending down below the frost line a maxiumum of 10 feet apart. The 10-foot requirement could be waived if the mobile home manufacturer has different specifications.

The commission tabled an ordinance creating a new zoning classification called B two-family mobile home.

Under the current ordinance, mobile homes are allowed in areas zoned B two-family. Under the new regulations, mobile homes would be allowed only in areas zoned B two-family mobile home, or a lower classification such as commercial or industrial.

B two-family areas with mobile homes are largely on the west side of town. However, the commission asked the city to inventory mobile homes in the city to find out which parts of town have the largest number.

The commissioners said they did not want to recommend the new classification for an area simply because it was already zoned B two-family.

RECREATION VEHICLES

The commission recommended requiring recreation vehicles to be stored behind the front yard set back line. For homes on corner lots, the vehicles could not be parked on the side of the house facing the street.

The city has been receiving complaints about recreational vehicles being parked in front of homes.

City Manager Charles Church said city codes do not allow the vehicles to be parked in the street.

Bill to hike jobless pay delayed today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Consideration of an increase in unemployment benefits, higher than recommended by Gov. Christopher S. Bond, was delayed in the Missouri House today, after a prefunctory rollcall vote showed a number of favorable votes among the missing.

Rep. Robert Fowler, D-Ferguson, who is handling the compromise measure, said he hoped some consideration of the bill could still be made today.

But the director of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations said he will recommend that Bond sign the proposal even though it will place a financial strain on the unemployment compensation trust fund.

"I think for the short term the bill will provide some economic stimulus and help some people who need it right away," said Geoffrey McCarron, whose department administers the state's unemployment program.

The compromise measure, which has been accepted by both labor and business, would raise weekly benefits from 52 per cent of a worker's weekly pay to 65 per cent and hike the maximum payment for $67 to $85.

Bond had sought an increase in the ceiling to $90 but asked for the benefit payments to remain at 52 per cent.

The measure would also increase employer contributions by about $5 million annually, only a quarter of what the House and the governor had called for. The increased benefits are expected to cost about $57 million a year.

While urging the governor to sign the bill, McCarron said the drain on the fund, which contained about $225 million at the end of January, would reduce its fiscal soundness. But he said means of increasing revenue will be reviewed in the coming months and a legislative recommendation made.

"There'll be money in (the fund)," he said. "It just won't be financially sound. Business and labor have decided they want to participate in it as soon as possible and I agree."

All options to bring more money into the trust fund will be considered, McCarron said, including additional increases in employer contributions and partial contributions by employes who currently pay nothing for the unemployment compensation insurance.

To make the fund financially sound and pay the increased benefits called for in the proposal, McCarron said it would have to have a balance of about $400 million which would require an employer contribution twice the size called for in the compromise measure.

Lambert elects first trustees

Elected to one-year terms were Rosalie Bollinger and Noble Milam. Elected to two-year terms were Arthur Schiwitz III, Mrs. Robert Carraker and Owen Wells Jr. Each received 15 votes. There were no write-in votes.

Brenda Schwitiz, acting village clerk, said 15 of the 16 registered voters in the village voted in the election. The one person who didn't vote was in an out-of-town hospital, she said.

The first board meeting will not be held until the newly elected trustees can talk with Jim Green of Sikeston, an attorney retained by citizens to represent the village, and a date can be set.

Tuesday's election was the first in an undetermined number of years, and was a result of citizens working to reactivate the dormant village.

A committee from the village had originally, in early March, asked the Scott County Court to appoint trustees, but later withdrew their request after Green said there was nothing the court could do, and that a special election would have to be held.

Election date was set in early April by Scott County Magistrate Judge Lloyd Briggs at the request of the citizens, as required by law.

Initially it was unsure whether the village remained incorporated after being dormant for so long. A check of county records by County Clerk Bob Kielhofner did not reveal when the last election was held or when the village last used its corporate powers.

Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore of Sikeston looked into the matter, however, and in a written opinion to the County Court said, "The village of Lambert remains incorporated."

Mrs. Schiwitz said of the renewed interest in the town, "We just wanted to see it functioning. We want our town to be a town and to be recognized." One of the first tentative plans, she said, is to put up a sign identifying the town.

The village, located just east of Benton, was incorporated in 1911.

2 Ferries operating

PORTAGEVILLE--Ferry service resumed today across the Mississippi River between Portageville and Tiptonville, Tenn. Ferry operations had been shut down for several weeks due to the high stages of the river.

Ferry service at Caruthersville remains closed for repairs to damaged roadways. The Belmont landing ferry service near Dorena is also closed.

Highway 80 reopened

Highway 80, from Interstate 55 to East Prairie, was reopened to traffic at 9 a.m. today, according to James Roper, maintenance foreman District 10 of the Missouri State Highway Department.

3 St. Louis men held for arson

Police arrested three St. Louis men for arson early today at E. C. Robinson Lumber Co., 100 S. Prairie St.

Police late this morning identified the three as James Gillespie, 27, Harold Simon, 24, and Robert Elbert, 23.

Police Detective Dan Hinton said Sgt. Hiram Gardner discovered a burning gate post at 1:45 a.m. and saw a man running from the lumber yard. Hinton said Gardner saw a car turn the corner from Prairie onto Greer Street, where it stopped and two men jumped out and ran.

Hinton said officer Bob Davis staked out the car and a short time later one man returned and was arrested.

At 6:40 a.m., Hinton said he and Sgt. Jack Patterson drove north on Interstate 55 to see if the other two men were trying to get back to St. Louis. They found the two men hitchhiking just south of the Benton interchange.

Hinton said no one has been able to determine why the men wanted to set the fire.

The fire was apparently set after a flamable liquid was splashed against the building, firemen said.

The fire department extinguished the fire before any major damage was done.

The auxiliary police and Larry Linnemeyer, a state fire marshal, assisted in the search for the three suspects.

Woman hurt in accident

CHARLESTON — An East Prairie woman received minor injuries Tuesday in a two-vehicle traffic accident four miles south of town.

The highway patrol reported the accident occurred at 7:15 a.m. at the intersection of Highway 105 with Routes C and D when a westbound pickup truck driven by Olie Dixon, 71, of Charleston failed to yield the right of way and ran into the side of a southbound car driven by Susan Lafferty, 23.

The impact of the collision caused the Lafferty woman to lose control of her car which ran off the road into a field. She received injuries and was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

Phnom Penh asks cease-fire

By The Associated Press

The Phnom Penh government has asked for an immediate cease-fire in its five-year war with the Khmer Rouge insurgents and offered to give up its authority, the International Committee of the Red Cross announced today in Geneva.

The offer came as Phnom Penh's airport fell after a day of fighting and the Communist-led rebels began shelling the center of the capital.

A Red Cross spokesman said a message from Cambodia's leader, Gen. Sak Sutsakhan, was sent by telegram to Prince Norodom Sihanouk in Peking. Sihanouk, ousted from power in Cambodia in 1970, is titular leader of the insurgents.

The spokesman said it contained "a request for an immediate cease-fire and a proposal for the transfer of government powers."

Field reports in Cambodia said a massive insurgent force seized the civilian control tower at Pochentong airport.

Piel files expenses

Councilmen Eric Piel was the only candidate required to file a campaign expense report following the April 1 city election, according to City Clerk Lynn Lancaster.

Councilman Bill Ryan filed a $500 exemption, as did unsuccessful candidates C. L. Blanton Jr. and James G. "Pete" Malone.

All three candidates for the Sikeston R-6 School District Board of education, Lee Shell and Phil Barkett, who won re-election, and unsuccessful candidate Jolene Walker all filed exemptions.

The exemption means the candidate does not need to file an itemized report of his campaign expenses if he spends less than $500.

Piel showed 28 contributors, all giving $45 or less, for total contributions of $628. He showed total expenses of $654.

Puxico voters approve tax

The tax is expected to raise $25,000 annually and will be used to construct a medical clinic.

According to Mayor J. Roy Smith, a doctor from Atlanta, Ga., has assured the city he will set up practice in Puxico after the building has been completed.

Classes resume as normal

CHARLESTON — Classes at the high school resumed as normal this morning with no further sit-ins being held by students who disrupted classroom procedures on Tuesday, according to Supt. Charles Rorex.

About 130 black students refused to go to class Tuesday morning and staged a sit-in in the commons area, reportedly in protest to the board of education's failure to renew a contract forthe coming year for Mrs. Caroline Cole, an English instructor at the high school.

Some 32 students were suspended from school as a result of the protest after they refused to return to class when asked by school administrators at the beginning of the second hour on Tuesday.

Length of suspension, under the school's standard procedure, will vary according to the number of discipline problems the student has had prior to Tuesday. A student with no prior offense was suspended for only one day; two offenses result in three days suspension; three offenses, five days suspension; and with four or more offenses the student must meet with the board of education. The board has agreed to meet with a delegation from the group to hear their complaints at a later date. Some of the board members were out of town Tuesday.

Local law enforcement officials and members of the highway patrol were at the school this morning prior to opening. As of 11 a.m. some officers remained to deter any incident which might arise during the noon hour.

Paul Revere's ride added to festival

CHARLESTON — An added dimension to the annual Dogwood-Azalea Festival this year will be a Bicentennial program scheduled to begin with Paul Revere riders at 7:30 p.m. Friday in front of the old Russell Hotel on East Commercial Street.

After heralding the news in commemoration of Revere's famed ride on the night of April 18, 1775, the riders and townspeople will assemble again in front of the hotel, where Danforth Joslyn will speak on the battles of Lexington and Concord.

Sam Story will serve as master of ceremonies and the Charleston High School mixed chorus, under the direction of Stephen Barr, will present a musical program.

The Dogwood- Azalea festival, set for Saturday and Sunday, will proceed as scheduled although many of the flowering shrubs and trees may not be in full bloom due to the late arrival of spring and warm weather.

The weekend promises to be filled with a wide variety of activities for the family, with most of the festivities centering in the E. Charles Rolwing Park near the end of East Commercial Street.

The Molly French Garden Club again will sponsor a Garden of Blooms show in the library. The building will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The show is open to anyone interested in growing and arranging flowers.

Exhibitors in the show's three categories — artistic design, horticulture and conservation — are asked to bring their entries to the library between 8:30 and 11 a.m. Saturday. Judging will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The standard system of awarding will be used, including best of show, award of merit (horticulture) and sweepstakes ribbons for the persons having the largest number of blue ribbons in the artistic and horticulture class. Entries will be judged by accredited judges.

As a part of the Bicentennial celebration, the Mississippi County Historial Society will have the society's museum in the Russell Hotel open from 1 to 5 p.m. each day. Of particular interest will be a portrait of Mrs. Betty Hearnes and the Warren E. Hearnes room, where mementos of the former governor's terms in office will be displayed.

The Jaycees will sponsor a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday in the National Guard Armory, with music provided by The Good Times. During the festival, the Jaycees will sponsor noon meals, with serving from noon to 2 p.m. Sunday in the park. They will also have a dunking machine in the park both days.

Another highlight of the festival will be a large display of art and crafts exhibited by local and area artists. Between 300 and 400 artists have been contacted and about 75 have responded, according to Mrs. Helen DeLine, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Most of the clubs and organizations in the area have made plans to participate in the event. Some will sponsor children's games and others will have food and drink stands.

A wide variety of arts and crafts will also be for sale during the two days in the park. Flowering shrubs and trees and flowering baskets also may be purchased from some of the stands.

A display of antique cars also will be featured.

Crafts by Gilum's Goodies of Louisville, Ky., doll house displays by Harold Norton of Charleston, purses and other crafts by Lane's Crafts of Charleston, jewelry and leather working booths and food stands featuring hot dogs, hamburgers, soft drinks, cake and candies will be available each day.

Chairman of this year's festival is Charles Rorex, assisted by Tommy Stockton and Terry Rowe.

Registration booths at entrances to the city will be staffed by members of the garden club.

AFTER KING FAISAL

The assassination of Saudi Arabia's King Faisal injects an ominous new note of urgency into an already desperate search for peace in the Middle East.

Moderate leaders in that powder keg, where the interests of the world's two superpowers meet head-on, are difficult to find. The frightening danger is that, following the losing gamble of Egypt's Anwar Sadat in the recently aborted Kissinger negotiations, coupled with Faisal's untimely death, Arabian leaders with pro-western leanings may become a vanishing breed altogether.

The royal family has moved quickly to plug the political vacuum, with Faisal's half brother, former Crown Prince Khalid, assuming the reins of power.

Although no significant change in Saudi Arabia's basically pro-western policies has been publicly predicted by U. S. officials, there is no doubt that Faisal's death is a tremendous blow to the United States and the entire western world. Faisal had immense international stature, born in large measure of his pivotal role among oil-producing countries. And, since the first oil deals were signed with the United States in 1933, he has agreed with the U.S. on almost everything except this country's pro-Israeli policy.

It is true that Faisal helped lead the Arab oil embargo. But that move, however disastrous for importing countries, was an aberration from Saudi Arabia's long history of friendship toward the West. It came only after the King repeatedly had warned the U. S. of the potential consequences of failure to persuade Israel to relinquish lands taken in the 1967 war, and to make accessible to other religions the holy places of Jerusalem.

Beyond his political power, Faisal was a man of personally moderate tastes who proved that wealth does not necessarily corrupt. As the world now anxiously awaits the next move toward peace or war in the Middle East, the ghost of King Faisal continues to loom large over that troubled area. He will be missed — both as a ruler and as a man.

Senator George McGovern wants the taxpayers to pick up the tab for the wanton destruction wreaked on Wounded Knee by militant Indians led by AIM agitators.

McGovern's bill -- S545 -- would amend the Small Business Act to allow money to be paid to the innocent victims at Wounded Knee who two years ago had their farms, homes and businesses demolished by the members of American Indians Movement.

Added to this McGovern plan, the Indian Occupation of Wounded Knee was financed by your tax money and mine "almost exclusively," according to Detroit News reporter John Peterson. In his investigative report, Peterson revealed: "More than half of the 258 members and sympathizers holding Wounded Knee are employes of social welfare agencies financed primarily by federal grants." Far from being repressed by the government, as the group was charging, it was found that AIM, since its founding in 1968, had received, either directly or indirectly, more than $400,000 from the American taxpayer.

Peterson also revealed that the leaders of the radical Indian group, "almost to a man, had lengthy histories of convictions for such crimes as burglary, strong-arm robbery, and assaults long before they organized the militant organization."

GSA's regional office in Atlanta is paying more than $200,000 a year to the private United Parcel Service because it can offer "better service and cheaper rates" than Uncle Sam. "Before we switched to UPS, many of the agencies we serve were calling back and saying they never got the orders they requested. It just meant extra work filling them again," says a GSA spokesman. "We're having much fewer stray shipments now." The GSA official disclosed that the agency was saving $18,000 a year by using UPS instead of the Postal Service.

FAIR TRADING WITH THE SOVIETS

One important fact needs to be emphasized in this matter of trade with the Soviet Union:

What collapsed was not the idea of trade itself between the United States and the U.S.S.R. but U.S.-subsidized trade.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, the United States would have loaned to the Soviet Union at 7 per cent money that it was borrowing at 9 per cent. We would, in effect, have been paying them to buy from us-and the Soviet Union is not exactly your typical struggling underdeveloped nation.

It seems clear now that what killed the deal was not U.S. insistence on liberalized emigration for Russian Jews but the amendment to the trade bill sponsored by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, (D-Ill.) which would have limited subsidized credits to $300 million over four years.

This is a paltry sum for a nation the size of the Soviet Union and one which it evidently concluded was not worth the price to its sovereignty of acceding to U.S. demands regarding Jewish emigation, even though the deal would have been sweetened by granting the same tariff treatment to the Soviets that we would extend to their trading partners.

"Trade and detente can move forward without this trade bill," insists Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Ohio, who along with Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) has come in for much criticism because of their co-authorship of the emigration clause.

Most of our mutual trading interests with the Soviets are in nontariff areas, Vanik points out.

"We can buy all the resources they want to sell. We can sell them all the technology and materials we want to. The only thing we don't have to facilitate this trading is taxpayer-subsidized credit."

Any American businessman who wants to sell to the Soviet Union can do so, and can get credit he needs from a domestic or internatiional bank.

Or, Vanik, adds, the Soviets can pay for it.

STOP HIGHWAY ROBBERY!

The Missouri legislature could streamline matters and still save taxpayers money by resurrecting the old Jesse James gang, rather than passing the highway robbery bill sought by the big truck interests.

Make no mistake about it, passage of a bill increasing allowable truck sizes and weights would cost the people of Missouri a minimum of $20 million a year. If that isn't highway robbery, what is it? Jesse James never lifted that kind of money off of people in his whole lifetime.

Thanks to a generous bunch of Congressmen whose campaign treasuries were enriched by the truck lobbyists, weights were increased for interstate highways last year. Now the Missouri Senate has given tentative approval to a bill raising the limit from 73,280 to 80,000 pounds on state highways. Allowable length of semitractor-trailers would be increased from 55 to 60 feet!

Ponder the impact of being passed by a 40-ton, 60-foot monster while tooling along at 55 miles an hour in a compact car!

Truck drivers are opposed to the heavier weights. Matt Aboud, a Teamster representative, testified before the Senate Roads Committee that larger trucks are unsafe.. Tires will blow out on heavier vehicles, Aboud said.

James Gregory, head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, has warned of the hazards from bigger trucks. The chances of collision when trucks overtake cars is four or five times greater than when cars pass trucks, he said. Gregory has stressed that increased loads require greater stopping distance and that the wear on brake linings diminishes performance.

Totally apart from the increased risk to drivers of cars and trucks alike, there is authoritative evidence of the damage that heavier trucks will cause to highways.

From reliable studies made in Illinois, it has been established that heavier weights will reduce pavement life from 16 to 18 per cent. The Missouri Highway Department has conceded that the costs to the state will run from $25 million to $30 million a year.

Under terms of the bill headed for passage in the Senate, additional license fees would bring in only an estimated $1.15 million a year from Missouri truckers. A few million extra from reciprocity fees for out-state trucks would still leave Missouri taxpayers stuck with a minimum $20 million yearly bill for new damage to their highways.

The concrete cost is bad enough. The inconvenience and hazard that motorists would suffer because of constant need for road repairs is intolerable.

It has been calculated that under existing limits, a single 73,280-pound truck causes the same amount of road damage as 6,000 cars traveling the identical route.

Care to guess how many heavy trucks and busses pass St. Charles daily on I-70 just to cite one checkpoint? The latest figure available shows an average count of 2690 big vehicles in a 24-hour period. That's right — the equivalent of 26 piggyback railroad trains carrying 100 trailers each!

Missourians have been shoved around and bullied too long by greedy interests. It is time the legislators represented the people and put a stop to unconscionable highway robbery.

The big road hog bill must be defeated.

CRIME AND SOMETIMES PUNISHMENT

Prison warden Lewis E. Lawes, author of "20,000 Years in Sing Sing," once said, not entirely in jest, that "society will not improve until a better class of people goes to jail."

Thanks to Watergate, a better class of people has been going to jail in America. It may be questioned, though, just how much of a salutary effect on society is achieved by the brief confinement in minimum-security, country-club-type surroundings and the sub-minimum-security, country-club-type surroundings and the subsequent literary enrichment of men who attempted to suborn the American political system.

Also open to question may be the value to society of jailing somebody like bandleader "Skitch" Henderson, who has been sentenced to six months for falsifying his income tax returns — especially in view of the fact that no criminal charges were brought against a certain ex-president who did much the same thing.

Henderson was convicted of backdating the gift of his musical library to the University of Wisconsin, for which he claimed a deduction of $350,000 and which the government claimed was worthless.

In sentencing Henderson to prison, however, Manhattan Federal Court Judge Edward Weinfeld touched on one truth that has been all but ignored of late by the "suffered enough" apologists:

Not only must justice be done on behalf of society, but society must see justice being done.

In all the talk about penal reform, and particularly in the controversy over the death penalty, most attention has been focused on the criminal. The emphasis is on rehabilitation, and anyone who maintains that the primary objective must be the punishment of wrongdoers is almost guilty of heresy.

No one, of course, should want a return to the days when people were hanged in public for a whole list of petty offenses. But in attempting to humanize our penal codes, we seem to have forgotten that society also has certain needs.

If it is true that the routine execution of criminals had a brutalizing effect on society, it is also true that the de facto absence of a supreme penalty in this country today may also have unhealthy consequences.

When a cold-blooded murderer can expect not much harsher penalty than a common burglar, our concept of justice has become seriously distorted. Capital punishment aside, when a drug peddler receives no more penalty than a tax evader, something is also seriously wrong.

The latter happened in Ohio last month. A drug pusher, whose clientele included school children, was released on "shock probation" after just six months in prison. The theory behind "shock probation" is that a brief stay in prison followed by sudden release may have a rehabilitative effect that continued confinement would not.

Maybe so. But the demoralizing effect on society, and on law enforcement authorities, of this sort of thing is incalculable, as the outcry in Ohio over the episode testifies.

Warden Lawes to the contrary, society will not improve until those who break its laws receive swift and fair — and, above all, certain — punishment.

First Priority Project

We may yet have to make the trans-Alaska pipeline invisible to overcome environmental opposition to construction of this vital link badly -needed new petroleum supplies. While an invisible pipeline may sound preposterous, it is no more so than practice of ignoring the urgent need to start solving the energy crisis while we go to whatever lengths are necessary to please anybody and everybody--a patently impossible task.

Building the trans-Atlantic pipeline is a must, for it would ease the endery crisis by unlocking the greatst discovery in the history in the history of petroleum operations on the North American continent--the estimated 10 billion barrels of oil and 26 trillion cubic feet of natural gas of Alaska's North Slopt. The Alaska pipeline has undergone long and intensive study. It is thoroughly researched and, in this respect, years ahead of any alternative which would have to be researched virtually from scratch. It has been carefully designed and engineered to meet the rigorous challenges of Arctic topography. It is the most expeditious way of bringing North Slope oil to market. Finally, the Alaska pipeline has adequate financing--all from the private sector--and it will save the U.S. from $5 billion to $12.5 billion in foreign exchange over any alternative system.

The trans-Alaska pipeline can deliver North Slope oil with maximum safety and sooner than any alternative. Millions have been spent to design it and minimize its impact on the environment. It may not please everyone, but neither will any other proposal. Meeting this nation's urgent need for secure supplies of essential petroleum should be our top priority at this point in time.

The telephone rang in the real estate office. A hesitant female voice inquired: "Do you sell maternity clothes?"

Stifling his laughter, the salesman recovered quickly and replied: "No, Madam, but could we interest you in a larger house?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: JACKIE RAISES CASH BY SELLING WARDROBE.

WASHINGTON - Jacqueline Kennedy Onasis, twice a widow, won't inherit the millions that the pess has been writing about. But she has been quietly laying aside a little cash for the future by selling her wardrobe and auctioning off other possessions as she tires of them.

Associates of the late Aristotle Onassis say he was superstitious about wills. At this writing, they have found none. His Byzantine, billion-dollar empire has been left in a corporate tangle that Greek and American lawyers are trying to straighten out.

But almost certainly, the associates say, Jackie will wind up with little more than the $3 million she received under a written, premarital agreement. Sources close to the shipping tycoon's financial affairs say the money wasdeliveredto her in tax-free bonds after the marriage.

After President Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas, the young widow collected about $200,000 a year for five years from a trust fund, a family member told us. On October 20, 1968, the day she was married to Onasis, the trust fund reverted to her two children and her own payments stopped.

The following week, she asked the Treasury Department also to discontinue the $10,000 annual pension she had been collecting as the widow of a former President. "I hope you will consider this as a personal request, made for personal reasons," she wrote. Under the law, she would have lost the pension anyway after her remarriage.

The loss of all personal income, according to friends, was one reason she pressed Onasis for a prenuptial contract. She simply had to have some money of her own, she reportedly pleaded. Ari also gave her a $20,000 monthly allowance, picked up most of her bills and showered her with gifts.

"Jackie had a charming little rule," confided one friend, "that Ari had to bring back a present from every part of the world he visited. Once, all he brought her was a simple apron She was livid."

He was also generous to her children, giving Caroline a sailboat and John a jukebox among other presents. Once, John's pet rabbit was flown across the Atlantic to him in the careofan Olympic Airways pilot, who kept the bunny in the cockpit with him.

Intimates claim Onassis also flew hotdogs for the children all the way from New York City to his Greek island.Since he had a weakness for New York redhots himself, say our surces, he also indulged in this extravagance.

Speaking through aide Nancy Tuckerman, Jackie refused to discuss her financial affairs but, curiously, denied the hot dog story.

As we have reported earlier, Ari became irritataed over his wife's heavy spending and cracked down on her budget. "He put her on a short leash," explained a friend.

Associates recall hearing Onassis gripe about a $9,000 bill for gowns from Alentino's of Rome. "What does she do with all the clothes," he exploded. "'I never see her in anyting but blue jeans."

We have found out. After wearing her costly garments once or twice, sometimes not at all, Jackie would resell them and squirrel away the cash. Her favorite resell house, Encore of New York City, did a steady business in Jackie's slightly used and sometimes new clothing.

She peddled everything from coats, suits and gowns to pocketbooks, blouses and slacks. The labels, according to our sources, were the best: Yves St. Laurent, Valentino's of Rome, Halston.

Generally, she would demand a fixed price; other times she would accept whatever the market would bear. Once, it took Encore six months to sell a white coat, with a Valentino's label, at the price Jackie demanded.

Apparently, nothing was too trivial for her to auction off. She sold everyting from worn leather picture frames to exquisite furniture, according to witnesses, at such fashionable auction houses as New York City's William Doyle Galleries and Sotheby Parke Bernet's 84th Street branch.

Only last January, William Doyle Galleries sold a couple dozen items belonging to Jackie, including her son John's old nursery furniture. An old chair with a Choate School emblem, worth no more than $25, went for $300. when the auctioneer mentioned that it had once belonged to President Kennedy.

Jackie had been selling her used clothes, it turns out, every since she opened her first charge account as Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Mary Gallagher, who used to keep their books, reports that Jackie's clothing was "resold under my name and home address. As the various items were sold, Encore's check would come to me and I would deposit it in my personal account. At the same time, I would write out a check for the same amount to be deposited in Jackie's account."

Once, Ms. Gallagher took a fancy to a blue coat, which Jackie hoped to sell for $65. Jackie gave her the coat, and Ms. Gallagher wrote out a $65 check. "She told me to deposit it in her bank account," relates Ms. Gallagher. But on other occasions, she says, Jackie would be in a "generous mood" and give her old clothes. One example was a red maternity dress, which the bookkeeper couldn't use but which the resell houses wouldn't accept.

For the beautiful Jackie, although she spent her husband's money recklessly, was parsimonious with her own. There will be still more details in a future column.

Have Heart: Bankers, Labor, Family Counselors, Merchants Launch Task Force Network for Jobless

WASHINGTON - This story certainly isn't upbeat all the way. Nor is it a Pollyanna prose fortissimo. But it sure does beat down the perpetual purveyors of doom and gloom.

Though not observed by many, it happened on March 19 when some 58 men and women gathered in the AFL-CIO national headquarters for a full day tough work session at "The National Agency Conference On How To Meet the Immediate Needs of the Unemployed."

It was a case of the lions laying down with the lions. Men who have fought each other politically, philosophically, economically and professionally fashioned an anti-tragedy strategy to avoid heartbreak as well as hunger and broken homes and the new poverty.

To the parley called by Leo Perlis, director of the AFL-CIO Community Services, came representatives of the American Medical Assn. , the American Bar Assn., bankers and governmental executives of the Republican administrations, long under labor's fire.

Also the Travelers Aid Society (now reorganized to include social services), the Red Cross and the Family Service Association.

And the National Foundation for Consumer Credit. all came to help the unemployed stave off the loss of a home, a car, even household appliances -- and to carry the jobless workers, be they the suddenly stunned young people, the suddenly frightened ex-middle management executive or laid-off factory worker through the everlasting congressional thesorizing, recesses and strangulation by red tape.

"We agreed to disagree," says Perlis, "on those issues which divide us. But we decided to work together throughout the nation, in the despite cities and counties, to provide help, health and legal aid to all who are in need during this emergency."

It's easy to understand why the Mortgage Bankers Assn. representatives were asked as well as the Veterans Administration and HUD loan people. Jobless workers can't easily meet their mortgage payments while on unemployment insurance or what's left when the auto industry's Supplemental Unemployment Benefits run out. What the conference sought was extension and forebearance. Thus it was that the National Foundation for Consumer Credit and the Better Business Bureaus were invited.

But why the Travelers Aid Society.. Well, the history of the big depression rests on library shelves left there by those whose psyches block out ordeals. So the Okies, the Arkies, the workers who took the road are parts of ancient unhappy lore. However, once again unemployed workers are hitting the highways, seeking work, arriving in strange cities, finding no jobs, or that they have been bilked by crooked agencies. So Leo Perlis invited the social service Travelers Aid people to come to the conference. They came. they'll help.

And why the Red Cross.. This recession doesn't seem to be quite its cup of coffee. But it is. There now are scores of thousands of men and women in the armed services who are sending money back home to hard-hit families. An enlisted man (or woman) starts at $345.10 a month. And much more as he goes up the line to sergeant major who rates $1,249.20 monthly. And keep. And health services, entertainment, the whole bit.

So the Red Cross, as in grimmer war times, is the intermediary between the faraway soldiers, many of whom are out of the ghettos and are young, unknowledgeale and somewhat confused by what's happening. But the money is going home and is helping. So the Red Cross was invited, and came and will help.

And the stress and friction of families whose breadwinners are bringing home nothing, or crumbs or part-time work, may rip those families apart. So Perlis invited the Family Service Assn. people. They came. They will help by counseling distraugh wives, children and job-seeking husbands.

Sometimes money for health services is more desperately needed than dollars for food. So the American Medical Assn. was asked in. It did send a representataive. It did say it would help. So, too, with the American Bar Assn.

So this conference was not just the usual gathering of religious, charitable and social service workers or men from the Salvation Army. The conference put the whole thing together. It proved that the community can work as one instead of tearing itself apart.

I've talked with Perlis this past month. He reports that the ad-hoc task fores in hard-hit cities and counties now are operative. County medical associations will attempt to do what their doctors can, to help the sick who need care but can't aford to become ill. So will the jobless be aided in other fields by the county bar groups, the bankers, et al.

There may soon be a hundred or so of these coordinated ad-hoc task forces. Proving that under all that grime, even crime , of our big cities, there is a heart.

MARIN COUNTY HAS WOMAN DEPUTY

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Reva Richmond is now riding solo as Marin County's first woman sheriff assigned to patrol.

Deputy Richmond has taken the same courses, passed the same tests, been trained in the same pistol shooting and tactics of self-defense as male deputies.

"I'm the first of a kind and I think no one knows quite what to do with me." She expects to be assigned out of the sheriff's main office in the civic center and carry out any assignment that might be given a male counterpart.

"No, I am not scared," she said.

She was asked if he gave her patrolling tips.

"No, we hardly see each other. He works from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. I work from 4 p.m. until midnight. We don't even have the same days off."

Chorus line to be featured on KFVS

A chorus line from the 1975 Junior Woman's Club Follies will appear on the Breakfast Show on KFVS-TV Thursday morning. The Breakfast Show begins at 7 a.m. The group will perform a number from the follies.

The follies will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 in the middle school auditorium.

Old Compliment

When a housewife buys a spool of "50 denier" thread, she is paying Julius Caesar an indirect compliment. Caesar introduced the coin "denarius" or "denier" into France. King Francis I established the weight of this tiny coin 1500 years later as the standard measurement of his budding silk industry. Today, denier is a number system to describe the fineness of yarn; the higher the number, the thicker the yarn.

"more spice than everything nice"

Billie Jean tells all

BILLIE JEAN.
By Billie Jean King,
with
Kim Chapin.
202 pages.
Harper & Row

She was called Little Miss Moffitt, a bundle of energy and repartee who shouted "peanut butter" whenever she missed a crucial shot. Now named the "old lady" of tennis, Billie Jan King declares she is not just a tennis player anymore. She is a public figure and public figures always write their autobiographies. Right? Right.

Written in a chatty, informative style Billie Jean can handle, the book's vocabulary ranges from the naughty (expletive deleted) to golly and oh migosh. But this is only indicative of the range of her personality. She is the cool cucumber, money-grubber, abortion'loving,husband-hating loudmouth everyone says she is. Underneath all those labels, however, lie the real reasons for them and that can make all the difference.

Billie Jean's book has that old-fashioned rags-to-riches charm. But that is okay. America can use a theme like that. Billie Jean Moffitt was a Long Beach, Calif., fireman's daughter, who at the age of four or five, decided she was really going to do something with her life. After her mother told her football was out because it was unladylike, the 10-year-old turned to her father for advice.

Her father suggested golf, swimming or tennis. Says Billie Jean, "Tennis -- I really wasn't too sure what that was all about but I decided to give it a try." But first she had to scrape up $8 by doing odd jobs. Finally, the kid, who was from the wrong side of the tracks, bought a racket with maroon strings and handle.

From this point on, Billie Jean traces her life by showing her growing development as a player. In 1961 she agonized and finally realized she would have to play tennis full time if she would ever become No. 1. At Wimbledon, England, the 18-year-old darling of Centre Court was also known as the upset artist. beating Margaret Smith Court, ranked first, in 1961. In 1966, she won her first singles Wimbledon title against Maria Bueno.

After this and up to 1972, she learned the "sour" taste of success. Losing many friendships from envy, misunderstanding and jealousy, Billie Jan discovered it was harder to stay on top than to get there.

Today, Billie Jan says she has reflected on all the conflicts, hassles, and people in her life and has learned a few lessons. Those lessons have matured her and have "laid a pretty solid groundwork for whatever might happen in the future."

Other interesting highlights in the book include her strategy for the historic Bobby Riggs match. After Billie Jean deduced Margaret Court's loss to Riggs was from shaky nerves, she was determined to keep it one-shot match and not an ego-tripping spectacle. Technically, she purposely kept the game a base-line one and hit to Riggs' backhand side, his weakest.

Also, her near divorce in 1973 never crystallized because Larry, her husband, and she were too busy to file divorce papers. Eventually Larry became absorbed into tennis and is a full-time promoter.

Then there is the abortion she and Larry both wanted. Her fast-paced career gave her credible reasons for an abortion her mother learned about from the newspapers a year after it took place.

Billie Jean also reveals her role as an agitator for big-time money for women professionals. According to her, women are just as good as entertainers as men are. So why not equal pay? To prove it could be done, she joined and thus helped create the Virginia Slims circuit in 1971. She grossed $100,000. Her success also proved to other players they could cut their umbilical cord to the national associations and become highly paid professionals.

Always an underlying theme is Billie Jean's need for the "killer" instinct to win and the cool appraisal of opponents' personalities, their style of play, the type of playing field and even audiences.

Billie Jean is all her own woman. When she talks of tennis, the words and emotions flood out. When she talks supposedly of some of the most important events in people's lives like marriage, near divorce and pregnancy, her descriptions are terse. It is just a matter of priorities. Billie Jean's has been the "Number One," tennis player, two words seen in almost every paragraph.

She could have packed her book with self-righteous backslapping. Instead you get a little of both. You also get the reasons why she lost important matches and interesting appraisals of other great players.

Billie Jean's book is not only for the tennis novice in love with an idol but for women's libbers, curious men, bored housewives, anti-abortionists and people just plain interested in a new face on the public scene. Maybe she isn't just a tennis player, after all.

Woman chosen top majorette

EAST PRAIRIE — Brenda Tinnon recently has been selected 1975-76 drum majorette at East Prairie High School. She is the daughter of Woodrow Tinnon and Ivella Tinnon and was selected from the field of six, including Lisa Bird, Linda Bonta, Theresa Ivie, Carletta Scott and Dixie Skaggs.

The girls were judged on commanding the band to attention, making turns, directing, halting and a special routine. In addition, poise, strutting and personality were observed.

Topiary is the art of training, cutting and trimming trees and shrubs into odd and ornamental patterns. The term itself dervies from the Latin "toparius," an ornamental or landscape gardener.

Legion Club ahead in follies competition

The American Legion Club's representative legs are the front runners in the Mr. Follies Contest sponsored by the Sikeston Junior Woman's Club.

In second place are the legs representing the Sikeston Rotary Club and the Elks Club representative is currently in third place.

The contest is run in conjunction with the Junior Woman's Club Red Stocking Follies at 7:30 p.m., April 18 and 19 in Middle school autitorium.

Posters bearing pictures of the contestants' legs have been displayed at various places in town. People may vote by casting as many one-cent ballots as they wish for their favorite candidate. The winner will be announced at the Friday night performance of the follies.

Proceeds from the contest and the Red Stocking Follies will go to the pediatrics ward at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Other contestants represent the Jaycees, Lions Club, Optimist Club and Kiwanis Club.

TOLEDO (AP) — Designers are using a nonmetallic nonconductive material for tool housings — fiber-glass reinforced plastic — which insulates against heat as well as shock.

The fiber-glass reinforced plastic housing, itself, forms a second or "double" layer of insulation, virtually eliminating the hazard of shock.

Garden Dale to be Saturday

CHARLESTON--The Molly French Garden Club will hold annual garden sale and country kitchen from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Shelby 307 N. Main St.

Bedding and vegetable plants, hanging baskets, potted plants, trees and shrubs are available.

There also will be homemade jellies, cakes, pies, pickles and breads.

The ivory horn of the narwhal, or "sea-unicorn," is actually an elongated tooth that sometimes includes a rudimentary second tooth at its base. A 20-foot whale may have a tusk up to nine feet long.

Saucy harvest broccoli - it's easy, cheesy, creamy and quick. In saucepan, combine one can (10 ½ ounces) chicken gravy and two packages (10 ounces each) frozen chopped broccoli, cooked and drained. Heat; stir occasionally. Top with ½ cup shredded cheese. Makes about four cups.

Ann Landers'

Reader regrets shaved eyebrows

Dear Ann Landers: I wish to respond to your statement regarding a woman's poor housekeeping . You said, "It's nobody's business if she has pigs in the kitchen and a flea circus in her linen closet." Then you added, "If her husband doesn't mind," etc.

You are wrong. It IS somebody's business. It's MINE. I am a landlord and I own the house that slob lives in.

According to recent statistics, the average American family moves every three or four years. My husband and I own three rental homes and a small 10-unit apartment. The "pigs in the kitchen" are not always the four-footed kind. American women are the filthiest housekeepers in the world and if their husbands don't complain, they are just as bad.

The only way we landlords can protect ourselves is to ask for a cleaning deposit. (The tenants always resent this and insist they are "immaculate.") The deposit doesn't even come close to covering the cost of repairing the damage done by unbelievably dirty people.

I'd sign my name but we still have to do business in this town. So I'll just hold my nose and hope that somewhere there's a mother teaching her daughter the beauty of a clean home. -- Seen Plenty.

Dear S. P.: I was amazed at the number of landlords who wrote to say the same thing -- and you do have a point. Your letter was the most graphic, and thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been marriead for over 35 years. We have four lovely children and eight grandchildren.

Our sons and sons-in-law all make three times as much money as my husband. They are well aware of our financial limitations, yet my husband pulls the same stunt several times a year and it makes my furious.

We always send the children and grandchildren birthday gifts and Christmas presents. The cards are signed "Mom and Dad" or "Grandma and Grandpa." Yet I receive several letters during the year in which some mention is made of "Grandpa's extra gift of cash" -- or "the check Dad sent after your lovely present arrived." The children ask, 'Why does Dad do this..' I don't know what to tell them. Actually it burns me up. I've asked him NOT to repeatedly, but he ignores my wishes. Why.. Why.. Why.. -- Sizzling Sally

Dear S. S.: The poor guy feels the need to sneak in an extra gift in an attempt to buy a little extra love. It's a pathetic compulsion and there is nothing you can do about it. So give up already and recognize his "sneakiness" for what it is. -- insecurity.

Dear Ann Landers: What would you do if a neighbor chopped down three trees in your back yard and used them for fence posts without asking your permission..

The man who did this owns 80 acres area which we cherish. When my husband and I discovered what he had done we were outraged. He couldn't understand why we were upset. His answer was, "After all, that's what neighbors are for."

What can we do about it.. Or are WE crazy.. -- Conservationsists

Dear Con: You are NOT crazy and you can do plenty about it if you want to. Your neighbor broke the law. It's best to talk it out if possible, but if you want to sue him you have a good case.

Can drugs be a friend in time of stress.. If you keep your head together can they be of help.. Ann Landers's new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs" separates the fact from the fiction. Get it today. For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (20 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

It's a son for Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mays of Matthews born Friday.

Coach Garrett O'Dell's Sikeston track team, competing in its second meet of the year, won its initial first place at Poplar Bluff Friday in taking the annual thinclad invitational. The Bulldogs had 70½ points, Dexter 60, Poplar Bluff 45½, Paducah 44½; Kennett 42½; and Fredericktown 1. Two Sikeston record fell as Terry Cooper cleared the bar at five feet, nine inches to wipe out the old high jump mark of 5-8¾ set in 1949 by Jay Nickens, and Don Webb, with a twirl of 131 feet, seven inches, bettered the existing record of 131 feet in the discus set in 1949 by Ned Tanner.

Two Sikeston hurlers combined efforts at VFW Memorial Park Friday to give the high school Bulldog team its second straight win of the season when Jackson was defeated 10-1 in a Southeast Missouri Bseball Conference game.

World news

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans still seem immune to gold fever. In the 3½ months since bullion ownership became legal last Dec. 31, gold prices at both the retail level and on contracts for future delivery at major commodity exchanges have plunged about 18 per cent — from $200 an ounce on New Year's to around $164 an ounce Tuesday. The recent strength in the dollar and U.S. stock market and signs inflation is easing have contributed to the drop from the initial lack of gold enthusiasm, according to Chicago gold trader Larry Blum.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It was Tosca and tuna sandwiches on the grass at Civic Center Plaza: another opening for Brown Bag Opera. The rustle of lunch wrappers mingled with some of the best known works of two operas as budding artists displayed their talents Tuesday in the shadow of San Francisco's domed City Hall. "We are bringing the opera to the people," said the San Francisco Opera's company coordinator, Matthew Farruggio, as the lunch-hour program played to more than 500 on the chilly greensward of the Civic Center complex.

Officers elected

Faith Fodge, center, owner-manager of Sure-Kill, Inc. of Sikeston, was elected president Sunday of the newly organized Central Eastern Missouri Pest Control Association. Other officers elected seated, from left, are Roy E. White, manager of Terminix, Inc. in Sikeston secretary-treasurer; and Junior A. Baker, owner of Baker's Pest Control of Kennett, vice president. Members of the board of directors , standing are John Rodgers, owner of John's Pest Control of Sikeston; Norman Swain, owner of Swain's Termite Co. in New Madrid; and Woodrow Wilson, owner- manager of Sure-Kill Inc. of Sikeston. The next scheduled meeting is set for 7 p.m. May 16 at Security National Bank.

Speakers introduced

Millard and Ada Oldham, left, and Judy and Bob Taylor of Memphis, Tenn. were guests speakers Sunday when area pest control operators met at Security National Bank in Sikeston. to organize the Central Easter Missouri Pest Control Association. Introducing the speakers was Faith Fodge, right. Taylor is president of the Tennessee Pest Control Association.

Prayer

"(Jesus) answered, 'Your faith is too small. I tell you this: if you have faith no bigger even than a mustardseed, you will say to this mountain, "Move from here to there!', and it will move; nothing will prove impossible for you.' " (Matthew 17:20 NEB)

PRAYER: God, bestow upon us faith as large as a grain of mustard seed that we may better listen and watch for Thee every day. We pray the prayer Thy Son taught us, 'Our Father who are in heaven... Amen."

Lea named to board

Pat Lea, president of First National Bank of Sikeston, has been appointed to the board of directors of Mid-America Payment Exchange (MAPEX) in St. Louis.

MAPEX, a not-for-profit-corporation, was established to provide automated clearing house services to banks throughout Missouri and Illinois.

The purpose of MAPEX, as with other automated clearing houses previously established in California, Georgia, Massachusetts, and Minnesota, will be to permit funds transfers to be executed electronically without the use of conventional paper checks.

For example, the system will make it possible for workers' net pay to be deposited automatically into their bank accounts. Similarly, it will enable bank customers to make recurrent payments (such as monthly insurance premiums) automatically without writing checks.

Participating banks in Illinois and Missouri will be able to use the system to reduce increasingly massive check-processing workloads and paperwork costs. One of the primary benefits of the electronic funds transfer system (EFTS) concept on which MAPEX will be based is that it gives banks a way of dealing effectively with rapidly growing check usage volume.

Approximately 15 additional banking groups throughout the United States are committed to establishing new automated clearing houses like MAPEX during the next year and a half. It is expected that by 1977 it will be possible to make funds transfers across the country without the use of checks.

The U. S. Air Force is now putting its payrolls on an electronic funds transfer basis, and the Social Security Administration also has plans to make payments to its recipients electronically. This will be especially valuable in large cities where the theft of Social Security checks has become a major problem, because funds cannot be stolen during electronic transfer.

Several state governments are studying the possibility of using EFTS for their payrolls, welfare payments, education aid payments and other disbursements.

MAPEX will have its headquarters in the Executive Building at 515 Olive Street in downtown St. Louis. It is presently expected that computer facilities will be provided by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, which has been involved in the planning of an automated clearing house for this region. It is planned that MAPEX will become operational in 1976.

Bell announces new foreman

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has named Joseph R. Byrum as the company's new construction foreman in Sikeston. He replaces Wayne Channell who has been transferred by the company to plant foreman in Kennett.

Effective immediately, Byrum will head up a specialized crew whose job it will be to bring about service improvements in several towns in the south part of Southwestern Bell's Cape Girardeau District.

A Charleston native, Byrum has worked for Southwestern Bell in Sikeston as a switchman since 1970. He began his telephone career as a station installer in Charleston in 1966. Byrum and his wife Barbara have two children ages three and one-half and six months.

Biblical Treat

Although the United States leads the world in consumption, with the average American eating more than 80 doughnuts a year, the pastry is not American in origin. The Bible describes a forerunner of the doughnut in Leviticus, directing that "cakes mingled with oil . . . of fine flour, fried," be used in sacrifices. Some still regard the doughnut as a misdirected bagel.

Classifications considered

Classifications for 92 registrants were considered at the quarterly meeting of the Scott County Selective Service System Local Board No. 115 held recently at Area Office No. 25 in Kingsway Plaza Mall..

Gladys E. Nebel, executive secretary, reviewed the latest issuances from national headquarters and notes from a staff conference at state headquarters in Jefferson City.

Young men are reminded that they are required to register with the Selective Service during a period from 30 days prior to their 18th birthday to 30 days thereafter. Registration may be accomplished at the area office, 350A Kingsway Plaza, or at any high school in the county or the county clerk's office in the courthouse at Benton.

Cooking Rewards

Under the laws of the Greek city-state Sybaris, a cook received a copyright for a particularly good recipe and was entitled to profits from the sale of his creation for one year. The chef who produced unusual dishes at a Sybaritic feast was crowned on a dais before the people.

Final legs entry

The final contestant in the Mr. Follies Contest represents the Sikeston Lions Club. The contest is being sponsored by the Sikeston Junior Woman's Club, in conjunction with its Red Stocking Follies at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the middle school auditorium. Posters bearing pictures of the contestants' legs have been displayed at various places around town. People may vote by casting as many one-cent ballots as they wish for their favorite candidate. The winner will be announced at the Friday night performance of the follies.

Former Essex man dies from crash injuries

VACAVILLE, Calif. — Master Sgt. Wendle Lee Payne, 46, formerly of Essex, Mo., died April 4 from injuries he received in a plane crash in Vietnam.

He was born Feb. 10, 1929 at Essex and had served 23 years in the Air Force.

Survivors include his widow, Rosemary Payne of Vacaville; two sons, David and John Payne of the home; one daughter, Malonee Payne of the home; and an aunt, Bessie Dowdy of Dexter, Mo., who reared him.

Burial will be in Taylor Cemetery near Essex, with full military rites.

VIRGINIA PORTS

RICHMOND (AP) — An indication of the performance of Virginia's shipping activity is the dollar value of foreign imports and exports passing through its ports. During the first half of 1974 the value of Virginia's foreign trade grew to a $3-billion level, an increase of 53.7 per cent over the same period in 1973. Ports serve more than 90 steamship lines to 259 ports in 111 foreign countries, according to the Virginia Division of Industrial Development.

Family's remains found; mystery surrounds deaths

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Richard Cowden, who was found dead with three other members of her family in Oregon, was the former Miss Belinda Grayson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grayson, former residents of Festus, Mo. She was the niece of Mrs. Thomas H. Grayson of Frohna, Mo.)

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — The fate of a Southern Oregon family of four which vanished without a trace last summer has been learned with the discovery of skeletal remains, but mystery still surrounds the deaths.

The remains found over the weekend by prospectors were identified through dental records Monday as those of Richard Cowden, 27; his wife, Belinda, 22; son David, 5; and daughter Melissa, 5 months.

State police said two of the skulls had bullet holes in them, but declined to say which two.

Police say there is no indication of who killed the family, or why, but Oregon State Police Lt. Mark Kezar speculated that the slayer was a local person familiar with the mountainous area.

The remains were found about 6½ miles northwest of a campsite near the town of Copper, from which the family vanished Sept. 1, 1974.

Hundreds of searchers combed the area for miles around after the Cowdens were reported missing, including the general area where the remains were found, but they discovered no trace of the family.

Kezar said two Forest Grove prospectors, Allan West and Marvin Proctor, found Cowden's remains on a steep hillside Saturday. The remains of his wife and children were found stuffed into a small cave, or grotto, about 200 yards away.

Police said a vehicle apparently was used to bring the Cowdens or their bodies to the area.

Cowden, a log truck driver from White City, had planned to haul gravel for his driveway on that Labor Day weekend last year, but arrangements to borrow a truck fell through.

So he took his family camping in the Carberry Creek area 35 miles southwest of Medford, just north of the California state line.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 1, Cowden and David went to the store in Copper to get a quart of milk. That was the last time any of the family was seen alive.

They were to have gone to Copper for dinner at the home of Mrs. Cowden's mother, Ruth Grayson, that night. When they didn't appear, Mrs. Grayson went to the campsite.

Everything was as it should have been. Food was on the table and fishing poles leaned against a tree.

WINS WITH A 70

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Shooting a final round of 70, Stuart Schwartz of Southfield, Mich., won the tournament of club champions at Harder Hall here with a four-round total of 302. Arnie Horelick of Pittsburgh was runnerup with a 72-hole score of 306.

Probe sought in deaths of inmates

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri Rep. Fred Williams said Tuesday he will ask the U.S. Justice Department to investigate the deaths of two state prisoners.

The St. Louis Democrat said attempts to get state officials to probe the deaths of Leon Dent April 2 and Jesse Lang Jan. 9 have proven "almost futile."

Atty. Gen. John Danforth announced Tuesday that an investigation by his staff found no basis for charges of "foul play" in the deaths. His investigation consisted of contacting prison employes and an assistant county medical examiner as well as a review of the death report files, Danforth said.

Danforth said in a letter to Williams that it is not "within the scope" of his office to investigate the deaths. He urged Williams to take evidence to the local county prosecutor's office.

Lang died at the criminal unit of Fulton State Hospital of natural causes, officials said. Williams said he has learned Lang's death may have been connected to a behavior-modifying drug called Prolixin with which Lang had been treated.

Dent, a St. Louis black militant, committed suicide by hanging in a maximum security cell April 2 at the state prison here, officials said. Williams charged that Dent had been beaten earlier in the day, drugged and hanged by prison guards.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Preston Dean said the county examiner found no marks on Dent other than around his neck. The examiner also found Dent's body temperature at 94 degrees about 10:30 p.m., indicating that he hadn't been dead long, Dean said.

Williams said that four inmates who lived in cells near Dent have been "mysteriously transferred" to an Arizona prison. Williams identified one of the inmates as Clyde Hazley.

Warden Donald Wyrick called Williams charges of the transfers "a lie." He said Hazley was recently released from prison after serving his sentence.

Ambulance service answers 11 calls

CHAFFEE — The North Scott County Ambulance Service answered 11 calls in Chaffee, Illmo, Benton, Oran, Commerce and Rockview during March, Mrs. Ellie Knight, director of the Scott County Retired Senior Volunteer Program and member of the ambulance service board of directors, has announced.

Danny Sadler and Brady Bailey of Chaffee served as drivers on the trips and alternated as attendants. Also acting as attendants were Vic Heisserer and Alice Glastetter of Chaffee.

Volunteer attendants, who sat by their phones for 12-hour blocks of time but were not called, included Ida Green of Rockview, Ann Glueck of Illmo, Carolyn Dumey and Bob Knight of Scott City and Francis Reed of Commerce.

Of 53 calls answered since the ambulance service began operating in January, Mrs. Knight said persons helped have included victims of heart attacks, strokes, automobile accidents, illness and household accidents.

Chaffee General Hospital serves as the base for dispatching the ambulance drivers and attendants.

Persons needing ambulance service in North Scott County should call the hospital. The phone number is 887-3573.

Gordonville man dies in traffic mishap

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Glenn W. Parr, 39, of Gordonville Route One, died Monday night when he lost control of a pickup truck which ran off the road and struck a tree on Highway 61 North. The vehicle then caught fire.

Parr, a horse trainer, became the city's second traffic fatality victim of the year when his southbound truck, owned by George Meikle Farms of Jackson Route Four, left the road at Boulder Crest and Highway 61 North about 8:30 p.m.

Coroner George F. Rouse said the victim was trapped inside the burning vehicle.

City police said the accident is still be being investigated. Cape Girardeau firemen were called to extinguish the burning truck.

Gene E. Huckstep, operator of a volunteer rescue service, said there was no indication the driver had attempted to apply his brakes, noting that it appeared the man simply lost control of the truck.

Huckstep said death most likely was instantaneous. The flames made extrication of the body impossible, he said.

Jackson goes to Bulldogs rescue

By DALE FORBIS

PADUCAH, Ky. — Sophomore pitcher Larry Jackson was mobbed as he strode, grinning, off the field after he had assumed the hero's laurels during the Bulldogs come-from -behind 4-1 victory over Paducah Tilghman here Tuesday afternoon. It was Sikeston's sixth win in as many starts, fifth time in a row to win after trailing, and the first career win for Jackson.

Paducah was a physically large team, as they usually are, but they proved incapable of hitting the mixture of slow curves and fastballs served up by Sikeston starter, Rick Taylor. They scored their only run, an unearned one, when a throw got away on a grounder by the THS hurler, Anthony Proctor. Proctor scored when centerfielder Bill Walden singled to right. After three innings Paducah led, 1-0.

It was another sophomore who was instrumental in tying the game. Jeff Limbaugh, leading off the fourth ripped a high fastball over the rightfielder's head for a triple. He trotted home when Charlie Miller's high fly sailed over the centerfielder's head for a double.

With the score even at 1-1 and both pitchers enjoying great success with their breaking pitches, it looked like Sikeston might be heading for another long day -- their previous game lasted eleven innings. But, two consecutive calls of catcher's interference semed to make the Bulldogs mad and set the stage for Jackson to put the finishing touches on his heroism.

Taylor had come back to the bench after his fifth inning of pitching rubbing his elbow and complaining of a "little hurt." When his first four pitches went high over the first batter's head, Jackson was summoned from the bullpen. After catcher Charlie Miller had cut down his third would-be Tilghman basestealer, two batters were awarded first base for catcher's interference, when Miller reputedly made contact with their bats. Jackson was unperturbed, calmly fanning a batter and making a second pop to the mound.

Kenny Stokes, for the first time in three games did not pitch, but earned his keep by beating out an infield single. David Shell, who had been robbed of hits twice before on screaming liners, looped a single into short left, and Bill Hampton laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to move runners to second and third. A strikeout gave Proctor a chance to pitch out of thejam, but Jackson grounded the second pitch into right for his first hit of the year, and what may turn out to be his biggest. Two runs scored on the safety, and Dale Deal's followup double scored Jackson and putting the icing on the cake.

Sikeston takes Wednesday off, then travels to Poplar Bluff for a Thursday game against the Mule's at Whitely Park starting at 4 p.m.

Mike Brasher

TRCC signs Brasher

POPLAR BLUFF — Mike Brasher of Kelly High School of Benton has signed an athletic scholarship to attend Three Rivers Community College next fall.

The Kelly team, coached by Nick Lanpher, had a fine season ending with a 20-5 mark. They were the Scott-Mississippi County Champs, however, they lost to Notre Dame to end their season in the semi-finals of the Scott City Regional.

Mike's personal accomplishments were an 18 point average with a good 56 per cent from the floor shooting average while hitting 80 per cent of his foul shots. Mike was also a valuable asset to his team in the rebound department being the second leading rebounder, while playing the guard position. Mike is also an outstanding baseball player hitting at a .454 clip last year as a junior and playing primarily third base while doing some spot pitching. This year Mike is one of the starting pitchers as well as the regular third baseman. Mike made All Conference and All District last year as a junior in baseball.

Coaches Gene Bess and Gary Holland are both looking forward to having Mike in the Raider uniform both as a guard on the basketball team and a member of the baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brasher of Route 1, Benton, Missouri, are the parents of the new 6-foot-1 Raider.

Golfers split at PB

The Sikeston varsity golfers lost their match to Poplar Bluff, (157-155) Monday afternoon and the Sikeston junior varsity won theirs against PB, 177-182. For the varsity, Mike Strinich was the low man for Sikeston with a 36. Greg Jarrell had a 38 and Ron Priday with a 41. Rounding out the scorers for Sikeston was Chris Alberts with a 42. For Poplar Bluff, Pete Godwin was the low man with a 36, followed by Blake Locke with a 38. Dennis Duncan had a 40 and John Alcorn with a 41.

In the junior varsity match, Gaither Daugherty was low man with a 42. John Jackovic followed with a 44 and Jeff Eilders had a close 45. Malcolm Vogel and Jim Lemonds both had a 46 for the match.

Davis mentioned as MU starter

Offensively, the Tiger boss-preparing for his fifth season--seems well pleased with Mizzou's offensive backs, if somewhat apprehensive about depth in the line.

"I feel good about the defense's progress," Onofrio says, "but will we be strong enough to stand up to the real tough football teams, and batter away?

"Against the normal teams, I think we will give a good account for ourselves."

Steve Pisarkiewicz, Tony Galbreath, Joe Stewart and East Prairie's Annise Davis--that's the backfield unit likely to start against Alabama in a night opener in Birmingham on Sept. 13. Other non-league foes on Missouri's exacting schedule are Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

"Zark and Galbreath--the all-conference power runner--were Tiger regulars from mid-season on. Stewart, a :09.7 sprinter, started a couple of early-season games as a freshman tailback. Davis, troubled by a chronic, sprained foot, was the No. 1 fullback for the Kansas finale.

Galbreath, a 235-pound bruising tailback, has enjoyed an impressive spring as the expected workhorse in Onofrio's attack.

Pisarkiewicz, the 205-pound upcoming junior, is markedly more poised than a year ago this time in his overall mechanics as team leader. His forte, of course, is a strong passing arm--but the rangy St. Louisan this spring hasn't yet connected with the consistency he's capable of.

With 13 of 20 sessions completed, what newcomers are making an impact with Tiger coaches?

Thousands demonstrate against gun bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.(AP)—Thousands of demonstrators rallied in Missouri's Capitol Tuesday night to protest a gun control bill that was dead weeks ago.

Groups in car caravans, buses and motorcycles gathered to sign petitions and cheer gun control opponents in a Senate committee hearing.

The hearing was moved to the Capitol Rotunda where the crowd roared when a man dressed in buckskins raised the Bicentennial flag. Placards waved calling the bill "unconstitutional."

Senate president pro tem William Cason, chairman of the Public Health, Welfare and Environment Committee, labeled the measure "a damn bad bill." He said law-abiding citizens would have to give up their arms, leaving criminals free to rob without fear of being shot.

Sen. Franklin Payne, D-St. Louis, introduced the gun control bill in reaction to a surge of murders in his predominantly black district. Payne said his constituents were "outraged" by the spreading violence.

But he admitted his measure didn't have a chance of passing this year because it was introduced too late. He urged a special legislative committee to have statewide hearings this summer to let people besides the gun lobby speak on the issue.

Among the protestors were urban and rural hunting club members, farmers and representatives of several gun associations.

With the gun control measure, "farmers couldn't protect their livestock from coyotes," said John Brune, a member of a coon hunting club in Washington, Mo. "You couldn't protect your home or your children."

Other opponents said the law enforcement system should be upgraded to put gun-toting criminals behind bars.

William Blackwell, a state representative from a rural central Missouri district, presented the committee 15,000 signatures against the bill. "This bill takes away guns for sport and self-defense," he said.

Payne said his bill would allow guns at home or at one's place of business, but require their owners to be registered. The measure would keep guns "off the streets," but allow them for hunting activities, he said.

The committee voted 5-0 to table the measure.

Some legislators accused Cason, an announced Democratic gubernatorial candidate, of "politicking" by holding the hearing. They said he could have bottled up the bill as committee chairman.

A Cason aide said the hearing was being held because of "senatorial protocol."

Spirits surprise Nets -ABA fans

The Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.
Wednesday, April 16, 1975

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — No one is going to take the Spirits of St. Louis lightly anymore, least of all the New York Nets.

The spirited Spirits, playing with confidence and determination, shocked the Nets with a 108-107 victory Tuesday night, eliminating New York's defending champions from the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The triumph was the Spirits' fourth in a row — their longest streak of the season — and gave them the best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal series, 4-1. The miraculous and unexpected comeback by the Spirits, a group of very promising, vastly-improved rookies and discarded veterans, was more remarkable in view of the fact that St. Louis had lost all 11 regular season games to the Nets, plus the playoff opener.

It thrust the Spirits into the Eastern Division final against Kentucky, the regular season division champions and a winner over Memphis in the other East semifinal series. The best-of-seven St. Louis-Kentucky series will open Monday night in Kentucky.

Indiana leads San Antonio 3-2 in their Western Division semis and the winner will meet Denver, which eliminated Utah earlier in the week.

"There was a stigma put on our guys early in the season as a happy-go lucky bunch," Coach Bob MacKinnon said of the St. Louis team, which joined the league only this season. "Sure, there were things happening on our club, but I don't think the tag was correct."

Regardless, the Spirits proved they could play basketball. After a slow start the Spirits gradually molded into a respectable unit, reaching their peak with the ouster of the shocked Nets.

The catalyst of the club was Freddie Lewis, who had played on three championship teams in seven years at Indiana before being traded prior to this season to Memphis, and then being grabbed by the Spirits in an early-season deal.

WFL talks money...

NEW YORK (AP) — With visions of Broadway Joe Namath in its dreams, the once-destitute World Football League rises from the ashes today with a press conference at a plush and fashionable hotel.

Hoping to make Namath its biggest catch, the league said Tuesday night that it has offered the New York Jets' quarterback $4 million in guaranteed cold cash — a quantity the WFL has lacked so far — to play with its Chicago franchise for three years beginning this summer.

League president Chris Hemmeter said the offer called for a $500,000 bonus, $500,000 a year for three years and $100,000 a year for 20 years beginning in 1978.

In addition, the WFL said it offered Namath 50 per cent ownership in a future expansion franchise — one which sources said would be located in New York, the city Namath captured a decade ago when he gave respectability to another struggling league.

As an indication of its uncertain future and unsuccessful past, the league did not know as late as Tuesday night what it would announce today.

Officials said there would be a league, but just how many teams was yet to be figured out. Other problems were also still being argued in meetings that were going 18 hours each of the past two days.

Hemmeter, the Hawaiian land developer who has rescued the WFL, said the offer to Namath was backed by guarantees. There was no immediate response from Namath, who is under contract to the Jets until May 1.

Sources at the meeting said owners of the potential Chicago franchise were insisting they would not play unless they got either Namath or Larry Csonka and Paul Warfield.

The league wants to make Chicago its flagship in hopes of attacting television money and major media coverage. The Memphis WFL owner, who owns the contracts of Csonka and Warfield, has said he would sell them to Chicago if such an action were necessary to save the league.

To be sure, the league is not on the most solid economic ground. But a few months ago, when the WFL had lost $20 million, missed countless payrolls and broken numerous promises, another season seemed a virtual impossibility.

This time it is being done under a strict financial plan drawn up by Hemmeter, one designed to force teams to place their operating expenses in escrowed bank accounts to guarantee bills will be paid.

Hemmeter says he fully intends to satisfy all debts. He said Tuesday that 93 per cent of the players who are still owed back pay from last season had agreed to a WFL plan to repay them. That plan calls for an estimated 20 per cent of the balance in immediate cash, with the remainder to be paid in installments over the next five years.

From eight to 11 teams could be involved in the WFL in 1975, and it was not certain if the league would know the number by today.

Teams set to play are Hawaii; Southern California; Shreveport, La.; Philadelphia and Memphis. Sources at the meetings said it appeared that there would also be franchises from Chicago; Birmingham; Jacksonville, Fla.; and San Antonio, Tex. Charlotte, N.C., and Portland, Ore., were considered possibilities.

Cooking up

By CHERIE BLANTON

Spring is approaching and I always think this is a fun time of the year to get all the women together for a brunch. It is a last minute fling to take one's mind off the fact that summer vacation for the children is approaching and the house is going to need a good cleaning. Start this off with a good chilled Sauterne wine and if your tomatoes get to done, no one will ever know the difference by the time they get around to the meal.

COFFEE CAKE

1 box yellow cake mix
1 package instant coconut pudding
4 eggs
¾ cup oil
1 small carton sour cream

Put all in large bowl and beat six minutes. Fold in one-half cup sugar has been mixed with 1 tsp. cinnamon and one-half cup chopped pecans. Grease and flour a tube cake pan and bake at 350 degrees for one and one-half hours.

EGGS BENEDICT

Every part of this is easy The trick is to come out even with toasted English muffins, frizzled boiled ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce. So, split the muffins and lay them, split side up, on baking sheet. Trim fat from thin slices of boiled ham and lay slices on broiler pan. Boil water for poaching eggs. Melt butter, add lemon juice for sauce and have egg yoks ready to add when the time comes.

Spread out plates ready to receive the dish in a hurry. Put muffins under broiler to toast and when they are brown, move them to a lower position in the oven and put the broiler pan of ham under the flame. Slide eggs into water to poach. Complete sauce, remove from fire, snatch out the muffins, put a slice of ham stop each one, lift the eggs out of the water and put one on each ham slice. Stir the Hollandaise once more and spoon it over the eggs. (You better not drink any of the wine until you get this done and served).

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Melt one stick butter in small bottomed pan and when melted, remove from fire and add the strained juice of one-half lemon. Let the mixture stand a few minutes and then add three raw eggs yolks. Beat with a wire whisk until foamy and well mixed. Put over a low fire and beat constantly until the sauce thickens. Season to taste with salt and pepper and serve immediately. This will make enough sauce for three eggs benedict. If sauce should curdle, gradually add a little cream and beat vigorously. About one tablespoon of cream.)

This next one I think appeared in the paper before but it is so good . You might have missed it and I'd hate for that to have happened.

BAKED FRUIT

1½ cups pineapple juice
2 tbsp. cornstartch
pinch salt
½ cup sugar
2 beaten egg yolks
½ stick oleo

Mix together and cook over medium heat, stirring until thick. Then mix with the following fruits.

1 large can fruit cocktain, drained (better save this juice to mix with the pineapple juice in case you don't get enough from it)
1 large can pineapple chunks, drained and saved
1-8 ounce package sliced American cheese, cubed
½ cup chopped pecans

Pour this into a 2-quart cassarole; cover the top with miniature marshmallows, and bake at 325 degrees for about 30 minutes.

BROILED TOMATOES

4 large ripe tomatoes
2 tbsp flour
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
⅛ tsp. basil
2 tbsp. melted butter

Start oven at 400 degrees. Rub a pan with butter. Wash tomatoes and cut them in half. Mix dry ingredients and dredge the cut surfaces with this mixture. Pour butter over them and then sprinkle Parmesan cheese. Broil until tops are bubbling and lightly browned and then remove to oven and bake for five minutes.

Search lawful, says court

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The arrest of a man in Cape Girardeau for possession of a controlled substance was constitutional even though police officers did not have a search warrant, the Missouri Supreme Court ruled today.

In upholding a decision of two lower courts, the high court affirmed the conviction of Ronald L. Wiley, who was charged with another man in March 1972 on two counts of possessing a controlled substance.

Cape Girardeau police were given a tip that an apartment where Wiley and the other man were located contained drugs. The tip said that the narcotics were stored in the refrigerator of the apartment.

The Cape Girardeau prosecuting attorney attempted to obtain a search warrant, was was unable to locate a judge. Police entered the apartment without the warrant and arrested its occupants, and officers found a plastic bag containing morphine and barbiturates.

In January of 1973, Wiley was convicted on each count and was sentenced to serve two concurrent five-year terms. He appealed, contending police were without probable cause to arrest him, that the search and seizure was in violation of his constitutional rights and that police obtained no search warrant.

The court, in a 5-2 decision, disagreed with the defendant, saying police must determine if there is probable cause to make an arrest without a warrant and that that consideration, "is not to be determined by hindsight by legal technicians."

The Rev. Gus Parris

Ex-con turned minister to speak here

The program at the monthly Sikeston Ministerial Alliance meeting Thursday at 10 a.m. in Trinity Baptist Church, Highway 61 North, will feature the Rev. Gus Parris, superintendent of the United Rescue Mission in Poplar Bluff, and will be open to the public.

The Rev. Mr. Parris will discuss the work of the rescue mission and its benefits to the community, a subject the Ministerial Alliance feels may be of interest to many in the Sikeston community.

Born in New York City, the Rev. Mr. Parris is an exconvict with a history of drug addiction and alcoholism. He was converted in 1968 at an outdoor evangelical meeting in Morristown, N. J., and almost immediately he began to seek converts among the derelicts on New York City's infamous Bowery district.

Believing that God was calling him into the special ministry of rescue, he responded by entering a training program at the world's oldest rescue mission, the Jerry McAuley Water Street Mission in downtown New York City. In 1970, while at the McAuley Mission, he received a call to direct the United Gospel Rescue Mission at Poplar Bluff, an interdenominational program.

The Rev. Parris is married and the father of an 8-year-old daughter. A member of First Baptist Church in Poplar Bluff, he was first licensed and then ordained to the ministry by that church in September 1971.

Young farmers set meeting

BENTON — The Scott County Young Farmers organization will meet at 8 p.m. Friday in the circuit courtrom at the Courthouse. Guest speaker will be Lowell Mohler, secretary and director of national legislative affairs for Missouri Farm Bureau.

Joe Diebold, chairman, said the meeting is open to all area farmers interested in discussing state and national legislative concerns with Mohler.

State to get grant

JEFFERSON CITY--Gov. Christopher S. Bond and Robert J. Dunn, director of the St. Louis Region of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, jointly announced Monday the approval of a $262,000 federal grant to the State of Missouri.

The award is authorized under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970 and provides funds for the following services and assistance:

(1) Development of management capabilities for Hayti Heights, two other fourth class cities and four villages--all newly incorporated and predominantly black.

(2) Assist county administrators across the State to improve their general management capabilities as well as provide them with written guidelines or models on modern personnel practices:

(3) Provide technical assistance through the Missouri Municipal League in the area of city management to communities under 20,000 population which do not have professional administrators on their staffs.

(4) Statewide consortium of cities and counties as well as the State Division of Personnel for cooperative validation of employment tests.

(5) Funds to cover one of two circuit-riding city manager positions established by the Mark-Twain Regional Planning Commission.

(6) Improvement of personnel selection methods used by agencies under the State Merit System.

(7) Development of a uniform and effective personnel system for agencies not covered by the State Merit System.

(8) Coverage of administration cost of FY 75 Satewide IPA Plan.

The purpose of the IPA is to help state and local governments improve the quality of public service through upgrading personnel systems and practices. The IPA also eases the way for government officials to move back and forth between the Federal government and state and local governments or institutions of higher learning on temporary assignments.

In addition to grants and personnel mobility, the act provides for the admission of state and local government employes to federal training courses, cooperative recruiting and examining agreements between the federal government and State and local governments, and giving technical assistance in a wide range of personnel services.

Howardville service station is burglarized

HOWARDVILLE

Howardville service station was burglarized early Monday morning of between $30 and $40 in change from a cigarette machine, plus a portable black and white television set, a new battery and other assorted merchandise valued together at $440.

A board had been torn off a back door to inside the station, according to a New Madrid County sheriff's deputy.

County taxes total $28,381

BENTON — Scott County Collector Tom Marshall has announced that $28,381.12 in personal, real estate and merchants taxes was collected during March.

He said all tax collected now is delinquent and will bear a two per cent penalty and four per cent interest if paid during April.

Of the money collected in March, $2,503.81 went to the county, $166.19 went to the state, $1,509.88 went to county special road districts, $553.65 went to the health department, $253.32 to the library, $69.76 to county drainage and $67.31 to the Johnson Grass eradication fund.

Distributions to school districts included: Illmo-Scott City R-1, $4,289.80; Chaffee R-2, $2,929.16; Oran R-3, $1,338.07; Kelly R-4, $2,492.71; Scott County Central R-5, $1,530.97; Sikeston R-6, $10,495.33; and the Kelso-New Hamburg C-7, $81.16.

In the last two generations, Americans have grown one-and-a-half inches, and now at an average height of 5 feet 8.2 inches, they continue to be the world's tallest people except for the Watusi and Dinkas in East Africa.

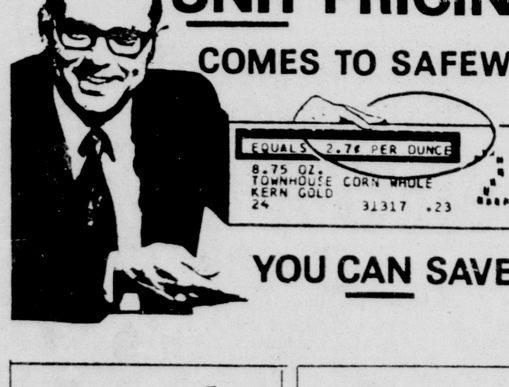
Safeway's (the) place to buy Meat

The Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.
Wednesday, April 16, 1975

We've always taken pride in selling the very finest steaks, chops and roasts. We cut only USDA Choice Beef Steak and Beef Roast at Safeway.

Each cut of this fine meat is close-trimmed to remove excess waste and fat. You get better eating meat on the table; you save money, too!



Perhaps, when you were growing up, you heard your mother say, "Safeway's the place to buy meat." Other things change, but this is still true.

Today in U.S. history

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, April 16, the 106th day of 1975. There are 259 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1917, Communist leader Vladimir Lenin returned to Russia after years of exile to assume leadership of the Russian revolutionary movement.

On this date —

In 1521, Martin Luther arrived at Worms. Germany, after being summoned to appear before the Diet to justify his attacks on the Catholic Church.

In 1789, George Washington left Mount Vernon for his inauguration as the first president of the United States.

In 1906, the Pacific cable was completed between the United States and China.

In 1947, more than 500 persons died in fires and explosions at Texas City, Texas, after a French freighter loaded with nitrate blew up.

In 1967, in South Vietnam, a U.S. bombing mistake cost the lives of 14 at a village housing defectors from the Communist side.

Ten years ago: Congressional sources disclosed that te Johnson administration had decided to build a small atomic submarine to carry out the first extensive exploration of ocean bottoms.

Five years ago: Seventy-two persons were killed in an Alpine avalanche that plunged down on a children's sanitarium at Sallanches, France.

One year ago: The Pentagon told a Senate committee it had found $266 million dollars extra for military aid to South Vietnam for the year

Mobile home law changes recommended

The Planning and Zoning Commission recommended changes in the city mobile home regulations Tuesday night and suggested that recreational vehicles be required to abide by home setback requirements.

The commission tabled a proposal to create a new zoning classification called B two-family mobile home.

MOBILE HOMES

The commission recommended that skirting around mobile homes be of manufactured material designed for that purpose or of material equal to or exceeding such a material.

Commissioners saidthey want something attractive, windproof and rodent proof.

The commission recommended that mobile home owners be given a choice of-foundations — either concrete strips, six inches thick and 18 inches wide with concrete blocks or poured concrete supports under the length of the supporting beams or individual piers extending down below the frost line a maxiumum of 10 feet apart. The 10-foot requirement could be waived if the mobile home manufacturer has different specifications.

The commission tabled an ordinance creating a new zoning classification called B two-family mobile home.

Under the current ordinance, mobile homes are allowed in areas zoned B two-family. Under the new regulations, mobile homes would be allowed only in areas zoned B two-family mobile home, or a lower classification such as commercial or industrial.

B two-family areas with mobile homes are largely on the west side of town. However, the commission asked the city to inventory mobile homes in the city to find out which parts of town have the largest number.

The commissioners said they did not want to recommend the new classification for an area simply because it was already zoned B two-family.

RECREATION VEHICLES

The commission recommended requiring recreation vehicles to be stored behind the front yard set back line. For homes on corner lots, the vehicles could not be parked on the side of the house facing the street.

The city has been receiving complaints about recreational vehicles being parked in front of homes.

City Manager Charles Church said city codes do not allow the vehicles to be parked in the street.

Bill to hike jobless pay delayed today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Consideration of an increase in unemployment benefits, higher than recommended by Gov. Christopher S. Bond, was delayed in the Missouri House today, after a prefunctory rollcall vote showed a number of favorable votes among the missing.

Rep. Robert Fowler, D-Ferguson, who is handling the compromise measure, said he hoped some consideration of the bill could still be made today.

But the director of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations said he will recommend that Bond sign the proposal even though it will place a financial strain on the unemployment compensation trust fund.

"I think for the short term the bill will provide some economic stimulus and help some people who need it right away," said Geoffrey McCarron, whose department administers the state's unemployment program.

The compromise measure, which has been accepted by both labor and business, would raise weekly benefits from 52 per cent of a worker's weekly pay to 65 per cent and hike the maximum payment for $67 to $85.

Bond had sought an increase in the ceiling to $90 but asked for the benefit payments to remain at 52 per cent.

The measure would also increase employer contributions by about $5 million annually, only a quarter of what the House and the governor had called for. The increased benefits are expected to cost about $57 million a year.

While urging the governor to sign the bill, McCarron said the drain on the fund, which contained about $225 million at the end of January, would reduce its fiscal soundness. But he said means of increasing revenue will be reviewed in the coming months and a legislative recommendation made.

"There'll be money in (the fund)," he said. "It just won't be financially sound. Business and labor have decided they want to participate in it as soon as possible and I agree."

All options to bring more money into the trust fund will be considered, McCarron said, including additional increases in employer contributions and partial contributions by employes who currently pay nothing for the unemployment compensation insurance.

To make the fund financially sound and pay the increased benefits called for in the proposal, McCarron said it would have to have a balance of about $400 million which would require an employer contribution twice the size called for in the compromise measure.

Lambert elects first trustees

Elected to one-year terms were Rosalie Bollinger and Noble Milam. Elected to two-year terms were Arthur Schiwitz III, Mrs. Robert Carraker and Owen Wells Jr. Each received 15 votes. There were no write-in votes.

Brenda Schwitiz, acting village clerk, said 15 of the 16 registered voters in the village voted in the election. The one person who didn't vote was in an out-of-town hospital, she said.

The first board meeting will not be held until the newly elected trustees can talk with Jim Green of Sikeston, an attorney retained by citizens to represent the village, and a date can be set.

Tuesday's election was the first in an undetermined number of years, and was a result of citizens working to reactivate the dormant village.

A committee from the village had originally, in early March, asked the Scott County Court to appoint trustees, but later withdrew their request after Green said there was nothing the court could do, and that a special election would have to be held.

Election date was set in early April by Scott County Magistrate Judge Lloyd Briggs at the request of the citizens, as required by law.

Initially it was unsure whether the village remained incorporated after being dormant for so long. A check of county records by County Clerk Bob Kielhofner did not reveal when the last election was held or when the village last used its corporate powers.

Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore of Sikeston looked into the matter, however, and in a written opinion to the County Court said, "The village of Lambert remains incorporated."

Mrs. Schiwitz said of the renewed interest in the town, "We just wanted to see it functioning. We want our town to be a town and to be recognized." One of the first tentative plans, she said, is to put up a sign identifying the town.

The village, located just east of Benton, was incorporated in 1911.

2 Ferries operating

PORTAGEVILLE--Ferry service resumed today across the Mississippi River between Portageville and Tiptonville, Tenn. Ferry operations had been shut down for several weeks due to the high stages of the river.

Ferry service at Caruthersville remains closed for repairs to damaged roadways. The Belmont landing ferry service near Dorena is also closed.

Highway 80 reopened

Highway 80, from Interstate 55 to East Prairie, was reopened to traffic at 9 a.m. today, according to James Roper, maintenance foreman District 10 of the Missouri State Highway Department.

3 St. Louis men held for arson

Police arrested three St. Louis men for arson early today at E. C. Robinson Lumber Co., 100 S. Prairie St.

Police late this morning identified the three as James Gillespie, 27, Harold Simon, 24, and Robert Elbert, 23.

Police Detective Dan Hinton said Sgt. Hiram Gardner discovered a burning gate post at 1:45 a.m. and saw a man running from the lumber yard. Hinton said Gardner saw a car turn the corner from Prairie onto Greer Street, where it stopped and two men jumped out and ran.

Hinton said officer Bob Davis staked out the car and a short time later one man returned and was arrested.

At 6:40 a.m., Hinton said he and Sgt. Jack Patterson drove north on Interstate 55 to see if the other two men were trying to get back to St. Louis. They found the two men hitchhiking just south of the Benton interchange.

Hinton said no one has been able to determine why the men wanted to set the fire.

The fire was apparently set after a flamable liquid was splashed against the building, firemen said.

The fire department extinguished the fire before any major damage was done.

The auxiliary police and Larry Linnemeyer, a state fire marshal, assisted in the search for the three suspects.

Woman hurt in accident

CHARLESTON — An East Prairie woman received minor injuries Tuesday in a two-vehicle traffic accident four miles south of town.

The highway patrol reported the accident occurred at 7:15 a.m. at the intersection of Highway 105 with Routes C and D when a westbound pickup truck driven by Olie Dixon, 71, of Charleston failed to yield the right of way and ran into the side of a southbound car driven by Susan Lafferty, 23.

The impact of the collision caused the Lafferty woman to lose control of her car which ran off the road into a field. She received injuries and was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

Phnom Penh asks cease-fire

By The Associated Press

The Phnom Penh government has asked for an immediate cease-fire in its five-year war with the Khmer Rouge insurgents and offered to give up its authority, the International Committee of the Red Cross announced today in Geneva.

The offer came as Phnom Penh's airport fell after a day of fighting and the Communist-led rebels began shelling the center of the capital.

A Red Cross spokesman said a message from Cambodia's leader, Gen. Sak Sutsakhan, was sent by telegram to Prince Norodom Sihanouk in Peking. Sihanouk, ousted from power in Cambodia in 1970, is titular leader of the insurgents.

The spokesman said it contained "a request for an immediate cease-fire and a proposal for the transfer of government powers."

Field reports in Cambodia said a massive insurgent force seized the civilian control tower at Pochentong airport.

Piel files expenses

Councilmen Eric Piel was the only candidate required to file a campaign expense report following the April 1 city election, according to City Clerk Lynn Lancaster.

Councilman Bill Ryan filed a $500 exemption, as did unsuccessful candidates C. L. Blanton Jr. and James G. "Pete" Malone.

All three candidates for the Sikeston R-6 School District Board of education, Lee Shell and Phil Barkett, who won re-election, and unsuccessful candidate Jolene Walker all filed exemptions.

The exemption means the candidate does not need to file an itemized report of his campaign expenses if he spends less than $500.

Piel showed 28 contributors, all giving $45 or less, for total contributions of $628. He showed total expenses of $654.

Puxico voters approve tax

The tax is expected to raise $25,000 annually and will be used to construct a medical clinic.

According to Mayor J. Roy Smith, a doctor from Atlanta, Ga., has assured the city he will set up practice in Puxico after the building has been completed.

Classes resume as normal

CHARLESTON — Classes at the high school resumed as normal this morning with no further sit-ins being held by students who disrupted classroom procedures on Tuesday, according to Supt. Charles Rorex.

About 130 black students refused to go to class Tuesday morning and staged a sit-in in the commons area, reportedly in protest to the board of education's failure to renew a contract forthe coming year for Mrs. Caroline Cole, an English instructor at the high school.

Some 32 students were suspended from school as a result of the protest after they refused to return to class when asked by school administrators at the beginning of the second hour on Tuesday.

Length of suspension, under the school's standard procedure, will vary according to the number of discipline problems the student has had prior to Tuesday. A student with no prior offense was suspended for only one day; two offenses result in three days suspension; three offenses, five days suspension; and with four or more offenses the student must meet with the board of education. The board has agreed to meet with a delegation from the group to hear their complaints at a later date. Some of the board members were out of town Tuesday.

Local law enforcement officials and members of the highway patrol were at the school this morning prior to opening. As of 11 a.m. some officers remained to deter any incident which might arise during the noon hour.

Paul Revere's ride added to festival

CHARLESTON — An added dimension to the annual Dogwood-Azalea Festival this year will be a Bicentennial program scheduled to begin with Paul Revere riders at 7:30 p.m. Friday in front of the old Russell Hotel on East Commercial Street.

After heralding the news in commemoration of Revere's famed ride on the night of April 18, 1775, the riders and townspeople will assemble again in front of the hotel, where Danforth Joslyn will speak on the battles of Lexington and Concord.

Sam Story will serve as master of ceremonies and the Charleston High School mixed chorus, under the direction of Stephen Barr, will present a musical program.

The Dogwood- Azalea festival, set for Saturday and Sunday, will proceed as scheduled although many of the flowering shrubs and trees may not be in full bloom due to the late arrival of spring and warm weather.

The weekend promises to be filled with a wide variety of activities for the family, with most of the festivities centering in the E. Charles Rolwing Park near the end of East Commercial Street.

The Molly French Garden Club again will sponsor a Garden of Blooms show in the library. The building will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The show is open to anyone interested in growing and arranging flowers.

Exhibitors in the show's three categories — artistic design, horticulture and conservation — are asked to bring their entries to the library between 8:30 and 11 a.m. Saturday. Judging will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The standard system of awarding will be used, including best of show, award of merit (horticulture) and sweepstakes ribbons for the persons having the largest number of blue ribbons in the artistic and horticulture class. Entries will be judged by accredited judges.

As a part of the Bicentennial celebration, the Mississippi County Historial Society will have the society's museum in the Russell Hotel open from 1 to 5 p.m. each day. Of particular interest will be a portrait of Mrs. Betty Hearnes and the Warren E. Hearnes room, where mementos of the former governor's terms in office will be displayed.

The Jaycees will sponsor a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday in the National Guard Armory, with music provided by The Good Times. During the festival, the Jaycees will sponsor noon meals, with serving from noon to 2 p.m. Sunday in the park. They will also have a dunking machine in the park both days.

Another highlight of the festival will be a large display of art and crafts exhibited by local and area artists. Between 300 and 400 artists have been contacted and about 75 have responded, according to Mrs. Helen DeLine, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The festival is sponsored by the Community Betterment Division of the chamber.

Most of the clubs and organizations in the area have made plans to participate in the event. Some will sponsor children's games and others will have food and drink stands.

A wide variety of arts and crafts will also be for sale during the two days in the park. Flowering shrubs and trees and flowering baskets also may be purchased from some of the stands.

A display of antique cars also will be featured.

Crafts by Gilum's Goodies of Louisville, Ky., doll house displays by Harold Norton of Charleston, purses and other crafts by Lane's Crafts of Charleston, jewelry and leather working booths and food stands featuring hot dogs, hamburgers, soft drinks, cake and candies will be available each day.

Chairman of this year's festival is Charles Rorex, assisted by Tommy Stockton and Terry Rowe.

Registration booths at entrances to the city will be staffed by members of the garden club.

AFTER KING FAISAL

The assassination of Saudi Arabia's King Faisal injects an ominous new note of urgency into an already desperate search for peace in the Middle East.

Moderate leaders in that powder keg, where the interests of the world's two superpowers meet head-on, are difficult to find. The frightening danger is that, following the losing gamble of Egypt's Anwar Sadat in the recently aborted Kissinger negotiations, coupled with Faisal's untimely death, Arabian leaders with pro-western leanings may become a vanishing breed altogether.

The royal family has moved quickly to plug the political vacuum, with Faisal's half brother, former Crown Prince Khalid, assuming the reins of power.

Although no significant change in Saudi Arabia's basically pro-western policies has been publicly predicted by U. S. officials, there is no doubt that Faisal's death is a tremendous blow to the United States and the entire western world. Faisal had immense international stature, born in large measure of his pivotal role among oil-producing countries. And, since the first oil deals were signed with the United States in 1933, he has agreed with the U.S. on almost everything except this country's pro-Israeli policy.

It is true that Faisal helped lead the Arab oil embargo. But that move, however disastrous for importing countries, was an aberration from Saudi Arabia's long history of friendship toward the West. It came only after the King repeatedly had warned the U. S. of the potential consequences of failure to persuade Israel to relinquish lands taken in the 1967 war, and to make accessible to other religions the holy places of Jerusalem.

Beyond his political power, Faisal was a man of personally moderate tastes who proved that wealth does not necessarily corrupt. As the world now anxiously awaits the next move toward peace or war in the Middle East, the ghost of King Faisal continues to loom large over that troubled area. He will be missed — both as a ruler and as a man.

Senator George McGovern wants the taxpayers to pick up the tab for the wanton destruction wreaked on Wounded Knee by militant Indians led by AIM agitators.

McGovern's bill -- S545 -- would amend the Small Business Act to allow money to be paid to the innocent victims at Wounded Knee who two years ago had their farms, homes and businesses demolished by the members of American Indians Movement.

Added to this McGovern plan, the Indian Occupation of Wounded Knee was financed by your tax money and mine "almost exclusively," according to Detroit News reporter John Peterson. In his investigative report, Peterson revealed: "More than half of the 258 members and sympathizers holding Wounded Knee are employes of social welfare agencies financed primarily by federal grants." Far from being repressed by the government, as the group was charging, it was found that AIM, since its founding in 1968, had received, either directly or indirectly, more than $400,000 from the American taxpayer.

Peterson also revealed that the leaders of the radical Indian group, "almost to a man, had lengthy histories of convictions for such crimes as burglary, strong-arm robbery, and assaults long before they organized the militant organization."

The ultimate indictment of the U. S. Postal Service has been delivered by the government's General Services Administration. GSA's regional office in Atlanta is paying more than $200,000 a year to the private United Parcel Service because it can offer "better service and cheaper rates" than Uncle Sam. "Before we switched to UPS, many of the agencies we serve were calling back and saying they never got the orders they requested. It just meant extra work filling them again," says a GSA spokesman. "We're having much fewer stray shipments now." The GSA official disclosed that the agency was saving $18,000 a year by using UPS instead of the Postal Service.

FAIR TRADING WITH THE SOVIETS

One important fact needs to be emphasized in this matter of trade with the Soviet Union:

What collapsed was not the idea of trade itself between the United States and the U.S.S.R. but U.S.-subsidized trade.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, the United States would have loaned to the Soviet Union at 7 per cent money that it was borrowing at 9 per cent. We would, in effect, have been paying them to buy from us-and the Soviet Union is not exactly your typical struggling underdeveloped nation.

It seems clear now that what killed the deal was not U.S. insistence on liberalized emigration for Russian Jews but the amendment to the trade bill sponsored by Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, (D-Ill.) which would have limited subsidized credits to $300 million over four years.

This is a paltry sum for a nation the size of the Soviet Union and one which it evidently concluded was not worth the price to its sovereignty of acceding to U.S. demands regarding Jewish emigation, even though the deal would have been sweetened by granting the same tariff treatment to the Soviets that we would extend to their trading partners.

"Trade and detente can move forward without this trade bill," insists Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Ohio, who along with Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) has come in for much criticism because of their co-authorship of the emigration clause.

Most of our mutual trading interests with the Soviets are in nontariff areas, Vanik points out.

"We can buy all the resources they want to sell. We can sell them all the technology and materials we want to. The only thing we don't have to facilitate this trading is taxpayer-subsidized credit."

Any American businessman who wants to sell to the Soviet Union can do so, and can get credit he needs from a domestic or internatiional bank.

Or, Vanik, adds, the Soviets can pay for it.

STOP HIGHWAY ROBBERY!

The Missouri legislature could streamline matters and still save taxpayers money by resurrecting the old Jesse James gang, rather than passing the highway robbery bill sought by the big truck interests.

Make no mistake about it, passage of a bill increasing allowable truck sizes and weights would cost the people of Missouri a minimum of $20 million a year. If that isn't highway robbery, what is it? Jesse James never lifted that kind of money off of people in his whole lifetime.

Thanks to a generous bunch of Congressmen whose campaign treasuries were enriched by the truck lobbyists, weights were increased for interstate highways last year. Now the Missouri Senate has given tentative approval to a bill raising the limit from 73,280 to 80,000 pounds on state highways. Allowable length of semitractor-trailers would be increased from 55 to 60 feet!

Ponder the impact of being passed by a 40-ton, 60-foot monster while tooling along at 55 miles an hour in a compact car!

Truck drivers are opposed to the heavier weights. Matt Aboud, a Teamster representative, testified before the Senate Roads Committee that larger trucks are unsafe.. Tires will blow out on heavier vehicles, Aboud said.

James Gregory, head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, has warned of the hazards from bigger trucks. The chances of collision when trucks overtake cars is four or five times greater than when cars pass trucks, he said. Gregory has stressed that increased loads require greater stopping distance and that the wear on brake linings diminishes performance.

Totally apart from the increased risk to drivers of cars and trucks alike, there is authoritative evidence of the damage that heavier trucks will cause to highways.

From reliable studies made in Illinois, it has been established that heavier weights will reduce pavement life from 16 to 18 per cent. The Missouri Highway Department has conceded that the costs to the state will run from $25 million to $30 million a year.

Under terms of the bill headed for passage in the Senate, additional license fees would bring in only an estimated $1.15 million a year from Missouri truckers. A few million extra from reciprocity fees for outstate trucks would still leave Missouri taxpayers stuck with a minimum $20 million yearly bill for new damage to their highways.

The concrete cost is bad enough. The inconvenience and hazard that motorists would suffer because of constant need for road repairs is intolerable.

It has been calculated that under existing limits, a single 73,280-pound truck causes the same amount of road damage as 6,000 cars traveling the identical route.

Care to guess how many heavy trucks and busses pass St. Charles daily on I-70 just to cite one checkpoint? The latest figure available shows an average count of 2690 big vehicles in a 24-hour period. That's right — the equivalent of 26 piggyback railroad trains carrying 100 trailers each!

Missourians have been shoved around and bullied too long by greedy interests. It is time the legislators represented the people and put a stop to unconscionable highway robbery.

The big road hog bill must be defeated.

CRIME AND SOMETIMES PUNISHMENT

Prison warden Lewis E. Lawes, author of "20,000 Years in Sing Sing," once said, not entirely in jest, that "society will not improve until a better class of people goes to jail."

Thanks to Watergate, a better class of people has been going to jail in America. It may be questioned, though, just how much of a salutary effect on society is achieved by the brief confinement in minimum-security, country-club-type surroundings and the sub-minimum-security, country-club-type surroundings and the subsequent literary enrichment of men who attempted to suborn the American political system.

Also open to question may be the value to society of jailing somebody like bandleader "Skitch" Henderson, who has been sentenced to six months for falsifying his income tax returns — especially in view of the fact that no criminal charges were brought against a certain ex-president who did much the same thing.

Henderson was convicted of backdating the gift of his musical library to the University of Wisconsin, for which he claimed a deduction of $350,000 and which the government claimed was worthless.

In sentencing Henderson to prison, however, Manhattan Federal Court Judge Edward Weinfeld touched on one truth that has been all but ignored of late by the "suffered enough" apologists:

Not only must justice be done on behalf of society, but society must see justice being done.

In all the talk about penal reform, and particularly in the controversy over the death penalty, most attention has been focused on the criminal. The emphasis is on rehabilitation, and anyone who maintains that the punishment of wrongdoers is almost guilty of heresy.

No one, of course, should want a return to the days when people were hanged in public for a whole list of petty offenses. But in attempting to humanize our penal codes, we seem to have forgotten that society also has certain needs.

If it is true that the routine execution of criminals had a brutalizing effect on society, it is also true that the de facto absence of a supreme penalty in this country today may also have unhealthy consequences.

When a cold-blooded murderer can expect not much harsher penalty than a common burglar, our concept of justice has become seriously distorted. Capital punishment aside, when a drug peddler receives no more penalty than a tax evader, something is also seriously wrong.

The latter happened in Ohio last month. A drug pusher, whose clientele included school children, was released on "shock probation" after just six months in prison. The theory behind "shock probation" is that a brief stay in prison followed by sudden release may have a rehabilitative effect that continued confinement would not.

Maybe so. But the demoralizing effect on society, and on law enforcement authorities, of this sort of thing is incalculable, as the outcry in Ohio over the episode testifies.

Warden Lawes to the contrary, society will not improve until those who break its laws receive swift and fair — and, above all, certain — punishment.

First Priority Project

We may yet have to make the trans-Alaska pipeline invisible to overcome environmental opposition to construction of this vital link badly -needed new petroleum supplies. While an invisible pipeline may sound preposterous, it is no more so than practice of ignoring the urgent need to start solving the energy crisis while we go to whatever lengths are necessary to please anybody and everybody--a patently impossible task.

Building the trans-Atlantic pipeline is a must, for it would ease the endery crisis by unlocking the greatst discovery in the history in the history of petroleum operations on the North American continent--the estimated 10 billion barrels of oil and 26 trillion cubic feet of natural gas of Alaska's North Slopt. The Alaska pipeline has undergone long and intensive study. It is thoroughly researched and, in this respect, years ahead of any alternative which would have to be researched virtually from scratch. It has been carefully designed and engineered to meet the rigorous challenges of Arctic topography. It is the most expeditious way of bringing North Slope oil to market. Finally, the Alaska pipeline has adequate financing--all from the private sector--and it will save the U.S. from $5 billion to $12.5 billion in foreign exchange over any alternative system.

The trans-Alaska pipeline can deliver North Slope oil with maximum safety and sooner than any alternative. Millions have been spent to design it and minimize its impact on the environment. It may not please everyone, but neither will any other proposal. Meeting this nation's urgent need for secure supplies of essential petroleum should be our top priority at this point in time.

Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON - Jacqueline Kennedy Onasis, twice a widow, won't inherit the millions that the pess has been writing about. But she has been quietly laying aside a little cash for the future by selling her wardrobe and auctioning off other possessions as she tires of them.

Associates of the late Aristotle Onassis say he was superstitious about wills. At this writing, they have found none. His Byzantine, billion-dollar empire has been left in a corporate tangle that Greek and American lawyers are trying to straighten out.

But almost certainly, the associates say, Jackie will wind up with little more than the $3 million she received under a written, premarital agreement. Sources close to the shipping tycoon's financial affairs say the money wasdeliveredto her in tax-free bonds after the marriage.

After President Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas, the young widow collected about $200,000 a year for five years from a trust fund, a family member told us. On October 20, 1968, the day she was married to Onasis, the trust fund reverted to her two children and her own payments stopped.

The following week, she asked the Treasury Department also to discontinue the $10,000 annual pension she had been collecting as the widow of a former President. "I hope you will consider this as a personal request, made for personal reasons," she wrote. Under the law, she would have lost the pension anyway after her remarriage.

The loss of all personal income, according to friends, was one reason she pressed Onasis for a prenuptial contract. She simply had to have some money of her own, she reportedly pleaded. Ari also gave her a $20,000 monthly allowance, picked up most of her bills and showered her with gifts.

"Jackie had a charming little rule," confided one friend, "that Ari had to bring back a present from every part of the world he visited. Once, all he brought her was a simple apron She was livid."

He was also generous to her children, giving Caroline a sailboat and John a jukebox among other presents. Once, John's pet rabbit was flown across the Atlantic to him in the careofan Olympic Airways pilot, who kept the bunny in the cockpit with him.

Intimates claim Onassis also flew hotdogs for the children all the way from New York City to his Greek island.Since he had a weakness for New York redhots himself, say our surces, he also indulged in this extravagance.

Speaking through aide Nancy Tuckerman, Jackie refused to discuss her financial affairs but, curiously, denied the hot dog story.

As we have reported earlier, Ari became irritataed over his wife's heavy spending and cracked down on her budget. "He put her on a short leash," explained a friend.

Associates recall hearing Onassis gripe about a $9,000 bill for gowns from Alentino's of Rome. "What does she do with all the clothes," he exploded. "'I never see her in anyting but blue jeans."

We have found out. After wearing her costly garments once or twice, sometimes not at all, Jackie would resell them and squirrel away the cash. Her favorite resell house, Encore of New York City, did a steady business in Jackie's slightly used and sometimes new clothing.

She peddled everything from coats, suits and gowns to pocketbooks, blouses and slacks. The labels, according to our sources, were the best: Yves St. Laurent, Valentino's of Rome, Halston.

Generally, she would demand a fixed price; other times she would accept whatever the market would bear. Once, it took Encore six months to sell a white coat, with a Valentino's label, at the price Jackie demanded.

Apparently, nothing was too trivial for her to auction off. She sold everyting from worn leather picture frames to exquisite furniture, according to witnesses, at such fashionable auction houses as New York City's William Doyle Galleries and Sotheby Parke Bernet's 84th Street branch.

Only last January, William Doyle Galleries sold a couple dozen items belonging to Jackie, including her son John's old nursery furniture. An old chair with a Choate School emblem, worth no more than $25, went for $300 when the auctioneer mentioned that it had once belonged to President Kennedy.

Jackie had been selling her used clothes, it turns out, every since she opened her first charge account as Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Mary Gallagher, who used to keep their books, reports that Jackie's clothing was "resold under my name and home address. As the various items were sold, Encore's check would come to me and I would deposit it in my personal account. At the same time, I would write out a check for the same amount to be deposited in Jackie's account."

Once, Ms. Gallagher took a fancy to a blue coat, which Jackie hoped to sell for $65. Jackie gave her the coat, and Ms. Gallagher wrote out a $65 check. "She told me to deposit it in her bank account," relates Ms. Gallagher. But on other occasions, she says, Jackie would be in a "generous mood" and give her old clothes. One example was a red maternity dress, which the bookkeeper couldn't use but which the resell houses wouldn't accept.

For the beautiful Jackie, although she spent her husband's money recklessly, was parsimonious with her own. There will be still more details in a future column.

Have Heart: Bankers, Labor, Family Counselors, Merchants Launch Task Force Network for Jobless

WASHINGTON - This story certainly isn't upbeat all the way. Nor is it a Pollyanna prose fortissimo. But it sure does beat down the perpetual purveyors of doom and gloom.

Though not observed by many, it happened on March 19 when some 58 men and women gathered in the AFL-CIO national headquarters for a full day tough work session at "The National Agency Conference On How To Meet the Immediate Needs of the Unemployed."

It was a case of the lions laying down with the lions. Men who have fought each other politically, philosophically, economically and professionally fashioned an anti-tragedy strategy to avoid heartbreak as well as hunger and broken homes and the new poverty.

To the parley called by Leo Perlis, director of the AFL-CIO Community Services, came representatives of the American Medical Assn. , the American Bar Assn., bankers and governmental executives of the Republican administrations, long under labor's fire.

Also the Travelers Aid Society (now reorganized to include social services), the Red Cross and the Family Service Association.

And the National Foundation for Consumer Credit. all came to help the unemployed stave off the loss of a home, a car, even household appliances -- and to carry the jobless workers, be they the suddenly stunned young people, the suddenly frightened ex-middle management executive or laid-off factory worker through the everlasting congressional thesorizing, recesses and strangulation by red tape.

"We agreed to disagree," says Perlis, "on those issues which divide us. But we decided to work together throughout the nation, in the despite cities and counties, to provide help, health and legal aid to all who are in need during this emergency."

It's easy to understand why the Mortgage Bankers Assn. representatives were asked as well as the Veterans Administration and HUD loan people. Jobless workers can't easily meet their mortgage payments while on unemployment insurance or what's left when the auto industry's Supplemental Unemployment Benefits run out. What the conference sought was extension and forebearance. Thus it was that the National Foundation for Consumer Credit and the Better Business Bureaus were invited.

But why the Travelers Aid Society. Well, the history of the big depression rests on library shelves left there by those whose psyches block out ordeals. So the Okies, the Arkies, the workers who took the road are parts of ancient unhappy lore. However, once again unemployed workers are hitting the highways, seeking work, arriving in strange cities, finding no jobs, or that they have been bilked by crooked agencies. So Leo Perlis invited the social service Travelers Aid people to come to the conference. They came, they'll help.

And why the Red Cross. This recession doesn't seem to be quite its cup of coffee. But it is. There now are scores of thousands of men and women in the armed services who are sending money back home to hard-hit families. An enlisted man (or woman) starts at $345.10 a month. And much more as he goes up the line to sergeant major who rates $1,249.20 monthly. And keep. And health services, entertainment, the whole bit.

So the Red Cross, as in grimmer war times, is the intermediary between the faraway soldiers, many of whom are out of the ghettos and are young, unknowledgeale and somewhat confused by what's happening. But the money is going home and is helping. So the Red Cross was invited, and came and will help.

And the stress and friction of families whose breadwinners are bringing home nothing, or crumbs or part-time work, may rip those families apart. So Perlis invited the Family Service Assn. people. They came. They will help by counseling distraugh wives, children and job-seeking husbands.

Sometimes money for health services is more desperately needed than dollars for food. So the American Medical Assn. was asked in. It did send a representataive. It did say it would help. So, too, with the American Bar Assn.

So this conference was not just the usual gathering of religious, charitable and social service workers or men from the Salvation Army. The conference put the whole thing together. It proved that the community can work as one instead of tearing itself apart.

I've talked with Perlis this past month. He reports that the ad-hoc task fores in hard-hit cities and counties now are operative. County medical associations will attempt to do what their doctors can, to help the sick who need care but can't aford to become ill. So will the jobless be aided in other fields by the county bar groups, the bankers, et al.

There may soon be a hundred or so of these coordinated ad-hoc task forces. Proving that under all that grime, even crime , of our big cities, there is a heart.

MARIN COUNTY HAS WOMAN DEPUTY

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Reva Richmond is now riding solo as Marin County's first woman sheriff assigned to patrol.

Deputy Richmond has taken the same courses, passed the same tests, been trained in the same pistol shooting and tactics of self-defense as male deputies.

"I'm the first of a kind and I think no one knows quite what to do with me." She expects to be assigned out of the sheriff's main office in the civic center and carry out any assignment that might be given a male counterpart.

"No, I am not scared," she said.

She was asked if he gave her patrolling tips.

"No, we hardly see each other. He works from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. I work from 4 p.m. until midnight. We don't even have the same days off."

Chorus line to be featured on KFVS

A chorus line from the 1975 Junior Woman's Club Follies will appear on the Breakfast Show on KFVS-TV Thursday morning. The Breakfast Show begins at 7 a.m. The group will perform a number from the follies.

The follies will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 in the middle school auditorium.

Old Compliment

When a housewife buys a spool of "50 denier" thread, she is paying Julius Caesar an indirect compliment. Caesar introduced the coin "denarius" or "denier" into France. King Francis I established the weight of this tiny coin 1500 years later as the standard measurement of his budding silk industry. Today, denier is a number system to describe the fineness of yarn; the higher the number, the thicker the yarn.

Billie Jean tells all

BILLIE JEAN.
By Billie Jean King,
with
Kim Chapin.
202 pages.
Harper & Row

She was called Little Miss Moffitt, a bundle of energy and repartee who shouted "peanut butter" whenever she missed a crucial shot. Now named the "old lady" of tennis, Billie Jan King declares she is not just a tennis player anymore. She is a public figure and public figures always write their autobiographies. Right? Right.

Written in a chatty, informative style Billie Jean can handle, the book's vocabulary ranges from the naughty (expletive deleted) to golly and oh migosh. But this is only indicative of the range of her personality. She is the cool cucumber, money-grubber, abortion'loving,husband-hating loudmouth everyone says she is. Underneath all those labels, however, lie the real reasons for them and that can make all the difference.

Billie Jean's book has that old-fashioned rags-to-riches charm. But that is okay. America can use a theme like that. Billie Jean Moffitt was a Long Beach, Calif., fireman's daughter, who at the age of four or five, decided she was really going to do something with her life. After her mother told her football was out because it was unladylike, the 10-year-old turned to her father for advice.

Her father suggested golf, swimming or tennis. Says Billie Jean, "Tennis -- I really wasn't too sure what that was all about but I decided to give it a try." But first she had to scrape up $8 by doing odd jobs. Finally, the kid, who was from the wrong side of the tracks, bought a racket with maroon strings and handle.

From this point on, Billie Jean traces her life by showing her growing development as a player. In 1961 she agonized and finally realized she would have to play tennis full time if she would ever become No. 1. At Wimbledon, England, the 18-year-old darling of Centre Court was also known as the upset artist. beating Margaret Smith Court, ranked first, in 1961. In 1966, she won her first singles Wimbledon title against Maria Bueno.

After this and up to 1972, she learned the "sour" taste of success. Losing many friendships from envy, misunderstanding and jealousy, Billie Jan discovered it was harder to stay on top than to get there.

Today, Billie Jan says she has reflected on all the conflicts, hassles, and people in her life and has learned a few lessons. Those lessons have matured her and have "laid a pretty solid groundwork for whatever might happen in the future."

Other interesting highlights in the book include her strategy for the historic Bobby Riggs match. After Billie Jean deduced Margaret Court's loss to Riggs was from shaky nerves, she was determined to keep it one-shot match and not an ego-tripping spectacle. Technically, she purposely kept the game a base-line one and hit to Riggs' backhand side, his weakest.

Also, her near divorce in 1973 never crystallized because Larry, her husband, and she were too busy to file divorce papers. Eventually Larry became absorbed into tennis and is a full-time promoter.

Then there is the abortion she and Larry both wanted. Her fast-paced career gave her credible reasons for an abortion her mother learned about from the newspapers a year after it took place.

Billie Jean also reveals her role as an agitator for big-time money for women professionals. According to her, women are just as good as entertainers as men are. So why not equal pay? To prove it could be done, she joined and thus helped create the Virginia Slims circuit in 1971. She grossed $100,000. Her success also proved to other players they could cut their umbilical cord to the national associations and become highly paid professionals.

Always an underlying theme is Billie Jean's need for the "killer" instinct to win and the cool appraisal of opponents' personalities, their style of play, the type of playing field and even audiences.

Billie Jean is all her own woman. When she talks of tennis, the words and emotions flood out. When she talks supposedly of some of the most important events in people's lives like marriage, near divorce and pregnancy, her descriptions are terse. It is just a matter of priorities. Billie Jean's has been the "Number One," tennis player, two words seen in almost every paragraph.

She could have packed her book with self-righteous backslapping. Instead you get a little of both. You also get the reasons why she lost important matches and interesting appraisals of other great players.

Billie Jean's book is not only for the tennis novice in love with an idol but for women's libbers, curious men, bored housewives, anti-abortionists and people just plain interested in a new face on the public scene. Maybe she isn't just a tennis player, after all.

Woman chosen top majorette

EAST PRAIRIE — Brenda Tinnon recently has been selected 1975-76 drum majorette at East Prairie High School. She is the daughter of Woodrow Tinnon and Ivella Tinnon and was selected from the field of six, including Lisa Bird, Linda Bonta, Theresa Ivie, Carletta Scott and Dixie Skaggs.

The girls were judged on commanding the band to attention, making turns, directing, halting and a special routine. In addition, poise, strutting and personality were observed.

Topiary is the art of training, cutting and trimming trees and shrubs into odd and ornamental patterns. The term itself dervies from the Latin "toparius," an ornamental or landscape gardener.

Legion Club ahead in follies competition

The American Legion Club's representative legs are the front runners in the Mr. Follies Contest sponsored by the Sikeston Junior Woman's Club.

In second place are the legs representing the Sikeston Rotary Club and the Elks Club representative is currently in third place.

The contest is run in conjunction with the Junior Woman's Club Red Stocking Follies at 7:30 p.m., April 18 and 19 in Middle school autitorium.

Posters bearing pictures of the contestants' legs have been displayed at various places in town. People may vote by casting as many one-cent ballots as they wish for their favorite candidate. The winner will be announced at the Friday night performance of the follies.

Proceeds from the contest and the Red Stocking Follies will go to the pediatrics ward at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Other contestants represent the Jaycees, Lions Club, Optimist Club and Kiwanis Club.

TOLEDO (AP) — Designers are using a nonmetallic nonconductive material for tool housings — fiber-glass reinforced plastic — which insulates against heat as well as shock.

The fiber-glass reinforced plastic housing, itself, forms a second or "double" layer of insulation, virtually eliminating the hazard of shock.

Garden Dale to be Saturday

CHARLESTON–The Molly French Garden Club will hold annual garden sale and country kitchen from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Shelby 307 N. Main St.

Bedding and vegetable plants, hanging baskets, potted plants, trees and shrubs are available.

There also will be homemade jellies, cakes, pies, pickles and breads.

The ivory horn of the narwhal, or "sea-unicorn," is actually an elongated tooth that sometimes includes a rudimentary second tooth at its base. A 20-foot whale may have a tusk up to nine feet long.

Saucy harvest broccoli - it's easy, cheesy, creamy and quick. In saucepan, combine one can (10 ½ ounces) chicken gravy and two packages (10 ounces each) frozen chopped broccoli, cooked and drained. Heat; stir occasionally. Top with ½ cup shredded cheese. Makes about four cups.

Ann Landers'

Reader regrets shaved eyebrows

Dear Ann Landers: I wish to respond to your statement regarding a woman's poor housekeeping . You said, "It's nobody's business if she has pigs in the kitchen and a flea circus in her linen closet." Then you added, "If her husband doesn't mind," etc.

You are wrong. It IS somebody's business. It's MINE. I am a landlord and I own the house that slob lives in.

According to recent statistics, the average American family moves every three or four years. My husband and I own three rental homes and a small 10-unit apartment. The "pigs in the kitchen" are not always the four-footed kind. American women are the filthiest housekeepers in the world and if their husbands don't complain, they are just as bad.

The only way we landlords can protect ourselves is to ask for a cleaning deposit. (The tenants always resent this and insist they are "immaculate.") The deposit doesn't even come close to covering the cost of repairing the damage done by unbelievably dirty people.

I'd sign my name but we still have to do business in this town. So I'll just hold my nose and hope that somewhere there's a mother teaching her daughter the beauty of a clean home. -- Seen Plenty.

Dear S. P.: I was amazed at the number of landlords who wrote to say the same thing -- and you do have a point. Your letter was the most graphic, and thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been marriead for over 35 years. We have four lovely children and eight grandchildren.

Our sons and sons-in-law all make three times as much money as my husband. They are well aware of our financial limitations, yet my husband pulls the same stunt several times a year and it makes my furious.

We always send the children and grandchildren birthday gifts and Christmas presents. The cards are signed "Mom and Dad" or "Grandma and Grandpa." Yet I receive several letters during the year in which some mention is made of "Grandpa's extra gift of cash" -- or "the check Dad sent after your lovely present arrived." The children ask, 'Why does Dad do this..' I don't know what to tell them. Actually it burns me up. I've asked him NOT to repeatedly, but he ignores my wishes. Why.. Why.. Why.. --Sizzling Sally

Dear S. S.: The poor guy feels the need to sneak in an extra gift in an attempt to buy a little extra love. It's a pathetic compulsion and there is nothing you can do about it. So give up already and recognize his "sneakiness" for what it is. -- insecurity.

Dear Ann Landers: What would you do if a neighbor chopped down three trees in your back yard and used them for fence posts without asking your permission..

The man who did this owns 80 acres area which we cherish. When my husband and I discovered what he had done we were outraged. He couldn't understand why we were upset. His answer was, "After all, that's what neighbors are for."

What can we do about it.. Or are WE crazy.. -- Conservationsists

Dear Con: You are NOT crazy and you can do plenty about it if you want to. Your neighbor broke the law. It's best to talk it out if possible, but if you want to sue him you have a good case.

Can drugs be a friend in time of stress.. If you keep your head together can they be of help.. Ann Landers's new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs" separates the fact from the fiction. Get it today. For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (20 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Deep sea diver to give lecture

50 years ago
April 16, 1925

Malone Theatre, today, Conrad Nagel and Eleanor Boardman in "Sinners In Silk."

Work on the construction of a modern gin plant to be erected in Sikeston by the Roberts Cotton Oil Co., will start at once, according to F.L. Pittman, division manager for the cotton products company. The firm has purchased the lot on the corner of Prosperity and Frisco streets. The lot is the site of the old McCord mule barn.

Three girls, whose homes are in or near Sikeston, will be graduated from the Missouri Baptist Sanatarium at St. Louis this spring. They are: Miss Lora McDonald and Miss Gillian Evans of Sikeston and Miss Era Dunlap of Parma.

40 years ago
April 16, 1935

Orville Taylor joined the staff of the Albritton Undertaking Co., Friday.

Robert Zimmerman, a deep sea diver, will give an illustrated lecture in the high school auditorium Wednesday.

In a special drive for additional funds for a new church building, members of the Nazarene Church raised $135 last week, in a house-to-house canvass in each of the four wards, for donations. Ira Chaney, captain of Ward 3, led with the largest amount.

Ted Weems and members of his orchestra will play at a dance here on May 8, it was announced yesterday. Jan Garber will be in Sikeston on June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Romines of Matthews are parents of a baby girl born Wednesday at the Delta Community Hospital.

East Prairie--William B. Redferring, 75, retired farmer and resident of this city for many years, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Wheatley, of near here, from infirmities of old age.

Kennett--A former Sikestonian, Lloyd Ford, 23, has been named manager of the Kroger store here. He has been working in Memphis and succeeds William Bodine, who resigned.

Mrs. Nettie Jones of Buffington, Mo., more familiarly known as "Aunt Nettie," died in Dexter Thursday. She was the aunt of Mrs. J.L. Goetz, David Martin, Glen Jones, Sidney Williams, and R.N. Jones, all of Sikeston.

A baby girl was born Thursday at the local hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Clark, Route 3, Sikesto; and a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Vernon Morris, 740 Smith street, on Thursday.

At the 68th annual convention of the Missouri Funeral Directors Association, held in St. Loiis, this week, John F. Nunnelee, jr., of Charleston was elected president of the state organization.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hobbs, 72, of Miner, died this morning at the local hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Suzie Smith Marshall, 45, who was born and reared in the Morley area, will be Monday at the Nunnelee Funeral Chael here. She died Friday after an illness of 15 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Leaston (Jack) Bledsoe, Route 2, are parents of a son born Friday.

It's a son for Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mays of Matthews born Friday.

Coach Garrett O'Dell's Sikeston track team, competing in its second meet of the year, won its initial first place at Poplar Bluff Friday in taking the annual thinclad invitational. The Bulldogs had 70½ points, Dexter 60, Poplar Bluff 45½, Paducah 44½; Kennett 42½; and Fredericktown 1. Two Sikeston record fell as Terry Cooper cleared the bar at five feet, nine inches to wipe out the old high jump mark of 5-8¾ set in 1949 by Jay Nickens, and Don Webb, with a twirl of 131 feet, seven inches, bettered the existing record of 131 feet in the discus set in 1949 by Ned Tanner.

Two Sikeston hurlers combined efforts at VFW Memorial Park Friday to give the high school Bulldog team its second straight win of the season when Jackson was defeated 10-1 in a Southeast Missouri Bseball Conference game.

World news

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans still seem immune to gold fever. In the 3½ months since bullion ownership became legal last Dec. 31, gold prices at both the retail level and on contracts for future delivery at major commodity exchanges have plunged about 18 per cent — from $200 an ounce on New Year's to around $164 an ounce Tuesday. The recent strength in the dollar and U.S. stock market and signs inflation is easing have contributed to the drop from the initial lack of gold enthusiasm, according to Chicago gold trader Larry Blum.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It was Tosca and tuna sandwiches on the grass at Civic Center Plaza: another opening for Brown Bag Opera. The rustle of lunch wrappers mingled with some of the best known works of two operas as budding artists displayed their talents Tuesday in the shadow of San Francisco's domed City Hall. "We are bringing the opera to the people," said the San Francisco Opera's company coordinator, Matthew Farruggio, as the lunch-hour program played to more than 500 on the chilly greensward of the Civic Center complex.

Faith Fodge, center, owner-manager of Sure-Kill, Inc. of Sikeston, was elected president Sunday of the newly organized Central Eastern Missouri Pest Control Association. Other officers elected seated, from left, are Roy E. White, manager of Terminix, Inc. in Sikeston secretary-treasurer; and Junior A. Baker, owner of Baker's Pest Control of Kennett, vice president. Members of the board of directors , standing are John Rodgers, owner of John's Pest Control of Sikeston; Norman Swain, owner of Swain's Termite Co. in New Madrid; and Woodrow Wilson, owner- manager of Sure-Kill Inc. of Sikeston. The next scheduled meeting is set for 7 p.m. May 16 at Security National Bank.

Speakers introduced

Millard and Ada Oldham, left, and Judy and Bob Taylor of Memphis, Tenn. were guests speakers Sunday when area pest control operators met at Security National Bank in Sikeston. to organize the Central Easter Missouri Pest Control Association. Introducing the speakers was Faith Fodge, right. Taylor is president of the Tennessee Pest Control Association.

Prayer

"(Jesus) answered, 'Your faith is too small. I tell you this: if you have faith no bigger even than a mustardseed, you will say to this mountain, "Move from here to there!', and it will move; nothing will prove impossible for you.' " (Matthew 17:20 NEB)

PRAYER: God, bestow upon us faith as large as a grain of mustard seed that we may better listen and watch for Thee every day. We pray the prayer Thy Son taught us, 'Our Father who are in heaven... Amen."

Lea named to board

Pat Lea, president of First National Bank of Sikeston, has been appointed to the board of directors of Mid-America Payment Exchange (MAPEX) in St. Louis.

MAPEX, a not-for-profit-corporation, was established to provide automated clearing house services to banks throughout Missouri and Illinois.

The purpose of MAPEX, as with other automated clearing houses previously established in California, Georgia, Massachusetts, and Minnesota, will be to permit funds transfers to be executed electronically without the use of conventional paper checks.

For example, the system will make it possible for workers' net pay to be deposited automatically into their bank accounts. Similarly, it will enable bank customers to make recurrent payments (such as monthly insurance premiums) automatically without writing checks.

Participating banks in Illinois and Missouri will be able to use the system to reduce increasingly massive check-processing workloads and paperwork costs. One of the primary benefits of the electronic funds transfer system (EFTS) concept on which MAPEX will be based is that it gives banks a way of dealing effectively with rapidly growing check usage volume.

Approximately 15 additional banking groups throughout the United States are committed to establishing new automated clearing houses like MAPEX during the next year and a half. It is expected that by 1977 it will be possible to make funds transfers across the country without the use of checks.

The U. S. Air Force is now putting its payrolls on an electronic funds transfer basis, and the Social Security Administration also has plans to make payments to its recipients electronically. This will be especially valuable in large cities where the theft of Social Security checks has become a major problem, because funds cannot be stolen during electronic transfer.

Several state governments are studying the possibility of using EFTS for their payrolls, welfare payments, education aid payments and other disbursements.

MAPEX will have its headquarters in the Executive Building at 515 Olive Street in downtown St. Louis. It is presently expected that computer facilities will be provided by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, which has been involved in the planning of an automated clearing house for this region. It is planned that MAPEX will become operational in 1976.

Bell announces new foreman

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has named Joseph R. Byrum as the company's new construction foreman in Sikeston. He replaces Wayne Channell who has been transferred by the company to plant foreman in Kennett.

Effective immediately, Byrum will head up a specialized crew whose job it will be to bring about service improvements in several towns in the south part of Southwestern Bell's Cape Girardeau District.

A Charleston native, Byrum has worked for Southwestern Bell in Sikeston as a switchman since 1970. He began his telephone career as a station installer in Charleston in 1966. Byrum and his wife Barbara have two children ages three and one-half and six months.

Biblical Treat

Although the United States leads the world in consumption, with the average American eating more than 80 doughnuts a year, the pastry is not American in origin. The Bible describes a forerunner of the doughnut in Leviticus, directing that "cakes mingled with oil . . . of fine flour, fried," be used in sacrifices. Some still regard the doughnut as a misdirected bagel.

VIRGINIA PORTS

RICHMOND (AP) — An indication of the performance of Virginia's shipping activity is the dollar value of foreign imports and exports passing through its ports. During the first half of 1974 the value of Virginia's foreign trade grew to a $3-billion level, an increase of 53.7 per cent over the same period in 1973. Ports serve more than 90 steamship lines to 259 ports in 111 foreign countries, according to the Virginia Division of Industrial Development.

Family's remains found; mystery surrounds deaths

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Richard Cowden, who was found dead with three other members of her family in Oregon, was the former Miss Belinda Grayson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grayson, former residents of Festus, Mo. She was the niece of Mrs. Thomas H. Grayson of Frohna, Mo.)

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — The fate of a Southern Oregon family of four which vanished without a trace last summer has been learned with the discovery of skeletal remains, but mystery still surrounds the deaths.

The remains found over the weekend by prospectors were identified through dental records Monday as those of Richard Cowden, 27; his wife, Belinda, 22; son David, 5; and daughter Melissa, 5 months.

State police said two of the skulls had bullet holes in them, but declined to say which two.

Police say there is no indication of who killed the family, or why, but Oregon State Police Lt. Mark Kezar speculated that the slayer was a local person familiar with the mountainous area.

The remains were found about 6½ miles northwest of a campsite near the town of Copper, from which the family vanished Sept. 1, 1974.

Hundreds of searchers combed the area for miles around after the Cowdens were reported missing, including the general area where the remains were found, but they discovered no trace of the family.

Kezar said two Forest Grove prospectors, Allan West and Marvin Proctor, found Cowden's remains on a steep hillside Saturday. The remains of his wife and children were found stuffed into a small cave, or grotto, about 200 yards away.

Police said a vehicle apparently was used to bring the Cowdens or their bodies to the area.

Cowden, a log truck driver from White City, had planned to haul gravel for his driveway on that Labor Day weekend last year, but arrangements to borrow a truck fell through.

So he took his family camping in the Carberry Creek area 35 miles southwest of Medford, just north of the California state line.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 1, Cowden and David went to the store in Copper to get a quart of milk. That was the last time any of the family was seen alive.

They were to have gone to Copper for dinner at the home of Mrs. Cowden's mother, Ruth Grayson, that night. When they didn't appear, Mrs. Grayson went to the campsite.

Everything was as it should have been. Food was on the table and fishing poles leaned against a tree.

WINS WITH A 70

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Shooting a final round of 70, Stuart Schwartz of Southfield, Mich., won the tournament of club champions at Harder Hall here with a four-round total of 302. Arnie Horelick of Pittsburgh was runnerup with a 72-hole score of 306.

Probe sought in deaths of inmates

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri Rep. Fred Williams said Tuesday he will ask the U.S. Justice Department to investigate the deaths of two state prisoners.

The St. Louis Democrat said attempts to get state officials to probe the deaths of Leon Dent April 2 and Jesse Lang Jan. 9 have proven "almost futile."

Atty. Gen. John Danforth announced Tuesday that an investigation by his staff found no basis for charges of "foul play" in the deaths. His investigation consisted of contacting prison employes and an assistant county medical examiner as well as a review of the death report files, Danforth said.

Danforth said in a letter to Williams that it is not "within the scope" of his office to investigate the deaths. He urged Williams to take evidence to the local county prosecutor's office.

Lang died at the criminal unit of Fulton State Hospital of natural causes, officials said. Williams said he has learned Lang's death may have been connected to a behavior-modifying drug called Prolixin with which Lang had been treated.

Dent, a St. Louis black militant, committed suicide by hanging in a maximum security cell April 2 at the state prison here, officials said. Williams charged that Dent had been beaten earlier in the day, drugged and hanged by prison guards.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Preston Dean said the county examiner found no marks on Dent other than around his neck. The examiner also found Dent's body temperature at 94 degrees about 10:30 p.m., indicating that he hadn't been dead long, Dean said.

Williams said that four inmates who lived in cells near Dent have been "mysteriously transferred" to an Arizona prison. Williams identified one of the inmates as Clyde Hazley.

Warden Donald Wyrick called Williams charges of the transfers "a lie." He said Hazley was recently released from prison after serving his sentence.

Ambulance service answers 11 calls

CHAFFEE — The North Scott County Ambulance Service answered 11 calls in Chaffee, Illmo, Benton, Oran, Commerce and Rockview during March, Mrs. Ellie Knight, director of the Scott County Retired Senior Volunteer Program and member of the ambulance service board of directors, has announced.

Danny Sadler and Brady Bailey of Chaffee served as drivers on the trips and alternated as attendants. Also acting as attendants were Vic Heisserer and Alice Glastetter of Chaffee.

Volunteer attendants, who sat by their phones for 12-hour blocks of time but were not called, included Ida Green of Rockview, Ann Glueck of Illmo, Carolyn Dumey and Bob Knight of Scott City and Francis Reed of Commerce.

Of 53 calls answered since the ambulance service began operating in January, Mrs. Knight said persons helped have included victims of heart attacks, strokes, automobile accidents, illness and household accidents.

Chaffee General Hospital serves as the base for dispatching the ambulance drivers and attendants.

Persons needing ambulance service in North Scott County should call the hospital. The phone number is 887-3573.

Gordonville man dies in traffic mishap

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Glenn W. Parr, 39, of Gordonville Route One, died Monday night when he lost control of a pickup truck which ran off the road and struck a tree on Highway 61 North. The vehicle then caught fire.

Parr, a horse trainer, became the city's second traffic fatality victim of the year when his southbound truck, owned by George Meikle Farms of Jackson Route Four, left the road at Boulder Crest and Highway 61 North about 8:30 p.m.

Coroner George F. Rouse said the victim was trapped inside the burning vehicle.

City police said the accident is still be being investigated. Cape Girardeau firemen were called to extinguish the burning truck.

Gene E. Huckstep, operator of a volunteer rescue service, said there was no indication the driver had attempted to apply his brakes, noting that it appeared the man simply lost control of the truck.

Huckstep said death most likely was instantaneous. The flames made extrication of the body impossible, he said.

Jackson goes to Bulldogs rescue

By DALE FORBIS

PADUCAH, Ky. — Sophomore pitcher Larry Jackson was mobbed as he strode, grinning, off the field after he had assumed the hero's laurels during the Bulldogs come-from -behind 4-1 victory over Paducah Tilghman here Tuesday afternoon. It was Sikeston's sixth win in as many starts, fifth time in a row to win after trailing, and the first career win for Jackson.

Paducah was a physically large team, as they usually are, but they proved incapable of hitting the mixture of slow curves and fastballs served up by Sikeston starter, Rick Taylor. They scored their only run, an unearned one, when a throw got away on a grounder by the THS hurler, Anthony Proctor. Proctor scored when centerfielder Bill Walden singled to right. After three innings Paducah led, 1-0.

It was another sophomore who was instrumental in tying the game. Jeff Limbaugh, leading off the fourth ripped a high fastball over the rightfielder's head for a triple. He trotted home when Charlie Miller's high fly sailed over the centerfielder's head for a double.

With the score even at 1-1 and both pitchers enjoying great success with their breaking pitches, it looked like Sikeston might be heading for another long day -- their previous game lasted eleven innings. But, two consecutive calls of catcher's interference semed to make the Bulldogs mad and set the stage for Jackson to put the finishing touches on his heroism.

Taylor had come back to the bench after his fifth inning of pitching rubbing his elbow and complaining of a "little hurt." When his first four pitches went high over the first batter's head, Jackson was summoned from the bullpen. After catcher Charlie Miller had cut down his third would-be Tilghman basestealer, two batters were awarded first base for catcher's interference, when Miller reputedly made contact with their bats. Jackson was unperturbed, calmly fanning a batter and making a second pop to the mound.

Kenny Stokes, for the first time in three games did not pitch, but earned his keep by beating out an infield single. David Shell, who had been robbed of hits twice before on screaming liners, looped a single into short left, and Bill Hampton laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to move runners to second and third. A strikeout gave Proctor a chance to pitch out of thejam, but Jackson grounded the second pitch into right for his first hit of the year, and what may turn out to be his biggest. Two runs scored on the safety, and Dale Deal's followup double scored Jackson and putting the icing on the cake.

Sikeston takes Wednesday off, then travels to Poplar Bluff for a Thursday game against the Mule's at Whitely Park starting at 4 p.m.

Mike Brasher

TRCC signs Brasher

POPLAR BLUFF — Mike Brasher of Kelly High School of Benton has signed an athletic scholarship to attend Three Rivers Community College next fall.

The Kelly team, coached by Nick Lanpher, had a fine season ending with a 20-5 mark. They were the Scott-Mississippi County Champs, however, they lost to Notre Dame to end their season in the semi-finals of the Scott City Regional.

Mike's personal accomplishments were an 18 point average with a good 56 per cent from the floor shooting average while hitting 80 per cent of his foul shots. Mike was also a valuable asset to his team in the rebound department being the second leading rebounder, while playing the guard position. Mike is also an outstanding baseball player hitting at a .454 clip last year as a junior and playing primarily third base while doing some spot pitching. This year Mike is one of the starting pitchers as well as the regular third baseman. Mike made All Conference and All District last year as a junior in baseball.

Coaches Gene Bess and Gary Holland are both looking forward to having Mike in the Raider uniform both as a guard on the basketball team and a member of the baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brasher of Route 1, Benton, Missouri, are the parents of the new 6-foot-1 Raider.

Golfers split at PB

The Sikeston varsity golfers lost their match to Poplar Bluff, (157-155) Monday afternoon and the Sikeston junior varsity won theirs against PB, 177-182. For the varsity, Mike Strinich was the low man for Sikeston with a 36. Greg Jarrell had a 38 and Ron Priday with a 41. Rounding out the scorers for Sikeston was Chris Alberts with a 42. For Poplar Bluff, Pete Godwin was the low man with a 36, followed by Blake Locke with a 38. Dennis Duncan had a 40 and John Alcorn with a 41.

In the junior varsity match, Gaither Daugherty was low man with a 42. John Jackovic followed with a 44 and Jeff Eilders had a close 45. Malcolm Vogel and Jim Lemonds both had a 46 for the match.

Davis mentioned as MU starter

Offensively, the Tiger boss-preparing for his fifth season--seems well pleased with Mizzou's offensive backs, if somewhat apprehensive about depth in the line.

"I feel good about the defense's progress," Onofrio says, "but will we be strong enough to stand up to the real tough football teams, and batter away?

"Against the normal teams, I think we will give a good account for ourselves."

Steve Pisarkiewicz, Tony Galbreath, Joe Stewart and East Prairie's Annise Davis--that's the backfield unit likely to start against Alabama in a night opener in Birmingham on Sept. 13. Other non-league foes on Missouri's exacting schedule are Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

"Zark and Galbreath--the all-conference power runner--were Tiger regulars from mid-season on. Stewart, a :09.7 sprinter, started a couple of early-season games as a freshman tailback. Davis, troubled by a chronic, sprained foot, was the No. 1 fullback for the Kansas finale.

Galbreath, a 235-pound bruising tailback, has enjoyed an impressive spring as the expected workhorse in Onofrio's attack.

Pisarkiewicz, the 205-pound upcoming junior, is markedly more poised than a year ago this time in his overall mechanics as team leader. His forte, of course, is a strong passing arm--but the rangy St. Louisan this spring hasn't yet connected with the consistency he's capable of.

With 13 of 20 sessions completed, what newcomers are making an impact with Tiger coaches?

Thousands demonstrate against gun bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.(AP)—Thousands of demonstrators rallied in Missouri's Capitol Tuesday night to protest a gun control bill that was dead weeks ago.

Groups in car caravans, buses and motorcycles gathered to sign petitions and cheer gun control opponents in a Senate committee hearing.

The hearing was moved to the Capitol Rotunda where the crowd roared when a man dressed in buckskins raised the Bicentennial flag. Placards waved calling the bill "unconstitutional."

Senate president pro tem William Cason, chairman of the Public Health, Welfare and Environment Committee, labeled the measure "a damn bad bill." He said law-abiding citizens would have to give up their arms, leaving criminals free to rob without fear of being shot.

Sen. Franklin Payne, D-St. Louis, introduced the gun control bill in reaction to a surge of murders in his predominantly black district. Payne said his constituents were "outraged" by the spreading violence.

But he admitted his measure didn't have a chance of passing this year because it was introduced too late. He urged a special legislative committee to have statewide hearings this summer to let people besides the gun lobby speak on the issue.

Among the protestors were urban and rural hunting club members, farmers and representatives of several gun associations.

With the gun control measure, "farmers couldn't protect their livestock from coyotes," said John Brune, a member of a coon hunting club in Washington, Mo. "You couldn't protect your home or your children."

Other opponents said the law enforcement system should be upgraded to put gun-toting criminals behind bars.

William Blackwell, a state representative from a rural central Missouri district, presented the committee 15,000 signatures against the bill. "This bill takes away guns for sport and self-defense," he said.

Payne said his bill would allow guns at home or at one's place of business, but require their owners to be registered. The measure would keep guns "off the streets," but allow them for hunting activities, he said.

The committee voted 5-0 to table the measure.

Some legislators accused Cason, an announced Democratic gubernatorial candidate, of "politicking" by holding the hearing. They said he could have bottled up the bill as committee chairman.

A Cason aide said the hearing was being held because of "senatorial protocol."

Spirits surprise Nets -ABA fans

The Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.
Wednesday, April 16, 1975

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — No one is going to take the Spirits of St. Louis lightly anymore, least of all the New York Nets.

The spirited Spirits, playing with confidence and determination, shocked the Nets with a 108-107 victory Tuesday night, eliminating New York's defending champions from the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The triumph was the Spirits' fourth in a row — their longest streak of the season — and gave them the best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal series, 4-1. The miraculous and unexpected comeback by the Spirits, a group of very promising, vastly-improved rookies and discarded veterans, was more remarkable in view of the fact that St. Louis had lost all 11 regular season games to the Nets, plus the playoff opener.

It thrust the Spirits into the Eastern Division final against Kentucky, the regular season division champions and a winner over Memphis in the other East semifinal series. The best-of-seven St. Louis-Kentucky series will open Monday night in Kentucky.

Indiana leads San Antonio 3-2 in their Western Division semis and the winner will meet Denver, which eliminated Utah earlier in the week.

"There was a stigma put on our guys early in the season as a happy-go lucky bunch," Coach Bob MacKinnon said of the St. Louis team, which joined the league only this season. "Sure, there were things happening on our club, but I don't think the tag was correct."

Regardless, the Spirits proved they could play basketball. After a slow start the Spirits gradually molded into a respectable unit, reaching their peak with the ouster of the shocked Nets.

The catalyst of the club was Freddie Lewis, who had played on three championship teams in seven years at Indiana before being traded prior to this season to Memphis, and then being grabbed by the Spirits in an early-season deal.

WFL talks money...

NEW YORK (AP) — With visions of Broadway Joe Namath in its dreams, the once-destitute World Football League rises from the ashes today with a press conference at a plush and fashionable hotel.

Hoping to make Namath its biggest catch, the league said Tuesday night that it has offered the New York Jets' quarterback $4 million in guaranteed cold cash — a quantity the WFL has lacked so far — to play with its Chicago franchise for three years beginning this summer.

League president Chris Hemmeter said the offer called for a $500,000 bonus, $500,000 a year for three years and $100,000 a year for 20 years beginning in 1978.

In addition, the WFL said it offered Namath 50 per cent ownership in a future expansion franchise — one which sources said would be located in New York, the city Namath captured a decade ago when he gave respectability to another struggling league.

As an indication of its uncertain future and unsuccessful past, the league did not know as late as Tuesday night what it would announce today.

Officials said there would be a league, but just how many teams was yet to be figured out. Other problems were also still being argued in meetings that were going 18 hours each of the past two days.

Hemmeter, the Hawaiian land developer who has rescued the WFL, said the offer to Namath was backed by guarantees. There was no immediate response from Namath, who is under contract to the Jets until May 1.

Sources at the meeting said owners of the potential Chicago franchise were insisting they would not play unless they got either Namath or Larry Csonka and Paul Warfield.

The league wants to make Chicago its flagship in hopes of attacting television money and major media coverage. The Memphis WFL owner, who owns the contracts of Csonka and Warfield, has said he would sell them to Chicago if such an action were necessary to save the league.

To be sure, the league is not on the most solid economic ground. But a few months ago, when the WFL had lost $20 million, missed countless payrolls and broken numerous promises, another season seemed a virtual impossibility.

This time it is being done under a strict financial plan drawn up by Hemmeter, one designed to force teams to place their operating expenses in escrowed bank accounts to guarantee bills will be paid.

Hemmeter says he fully intends to satisfy all debts. He said Tuesday that 93 per cent of the players who are still owed back pay from last season had agreed to a WFL plan to repay them. That plan calls for an estimated 20 per cent of the balance in immediate cash, with the remainder to be paid in installments over the next five years.

From eight to 11 teams could be involved in the WFL in 1975, and it was not certain if the league would know the number by today.

Teams set to play are Hawaii; Southern California; Shreveport, La.; Philadelphia and Memphis. Sources at the meetings said it appeared that there would also be franchises from Chicago; Birmingham; Jacksonville, Fla.; and San Antonio, Tex. Charlotte, N.C., and Portland, Ore., were considered possibilities.

Cooking up

By CHERIE BLANTON

Spring is approaching and I always think this is a fun time of the year to get all the women together for a brunch. It is a last minute fling to take one's mind off the fact that summer vacation for the children is approaching and the house is going to need a good cleaning. Start this off with a good chilled Sauterne wine and if your tomatoes get to done, no one will ever know the difference by the time they get around to the meal.

COFFEE CAKE

1 box yellow cake mix
1 package instant coconut pudding
4 eggs
¾ cup oil
1 small carton sour cream

Put all in large bowl and beat six minutes. Fold in one-half cup sugar has been mixed with 1 tsp. cinnamon and one-half cup chopped pecans. Grease and flour a tube cake pan and bake at 350 degrees for one and one-half hours.

EGGS BENEDICT

Every part of this is easy The trick is to come out even with toasted English muffins, frizzled boiled ham, poached eggs and Hollandaise sauce. So, split the muffins and lay them, split side up, on baking sheet. Trim fat from thin slices of boiled ham and lay slices on broiler pan. Boil water for poaching eggs. Melt butter, add lemon juice for sauce and have egg yoks ready to add when the time comes.

Spread out plates ready to receive the dish in a hurry. Put muffins under broiler to toast and when they are brown, move them to a lower position in the oven and put the broiler pan of ham under the flame. Slide eggs into water to poach. Complete sauce, remove from fire, snatch out the muffins, put a slice of ham stop each one, lift the eggs out of the water and put one on each ham slice. Stir the Hollandaise once more and spoon it over the eggs. (You better not drink any of the wine until you get this done and served).

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Melt one stick butter in small bottomed pan and when melted, remove from fire and add the strained juice of one-half lemon. Let the mixture stand a few minutes and then add three raw eggs yolks. Beat with a wire whisk until foamy and well mixed. Put over a low fire and beat constantly until the sauce thickens. Season to taste with salt and pepper and serve immediately. This will make enough sauce for three eggs benedict. If sauce should curdle, gradually add a little cream and beat vigorously. About one tablespoon of cream.)

This next one I think appeared in the paper before but it is so good . You might have missed it and I'd hate for that to have happened.

BAKED FRUIT

1½ cups pineapple juice
2 tbsp. cornstartch
pinch salt
½ cup sugar
2 beaten egg yolks
½ stick oleo

1 large can fruit cocktain, drained (better save this juice to mix with the pineapple juice in case you don't get enough from it)

1 large can pineapple chunks, drained and saved

1-8 ounce package sliced American cheese, cubed

½ cup chopped pecans

Pour this into a 2-quart cassarole; cover the top with miniature marshmallows, and bake at 325 degrees for about 30 minutes.

BROILED TOMATOES

4 large ripe tomatoes
2 tbsp flour
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
⅛ tsp. basil
2 tbsp. melted butter

Start oven at 400 degrees. Rub a pan with butter. Wash tomatoes and cut them in half. Mix dry ingredients and dredge the cut surfaces with this mixture. Pour butter over them and then sprinkle Parmesan cheese. Broil until tops are bubbling and lightly browned and then remove to oven and bake for five minutes.

Boys Open winners

Mark Hunt, left, of New Madrid 4-H Club models a pale green vest he made of 100 per cent cotton fabric, while Leslie Heitman of Matthews 4-H Club took honors with a blue bush jacket Monday night at the 15th annual New Madrid County Sew With Cotton fashion show. The boys will represent the county in competition at the district Sew With Cotton program in East Prairie on April 26.

Search lawful, says court

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The arrest of a man in Cape Girardeau for possession of a controlled substance was constitutional even though police officers did not have a search warrant, the Missouri Supreme Court ruled today.

In upholding a decision of two lower courts, the high court affirmed the conviction of Ronald L. Wiley, who was charged with another man in March 1972 on two counts of possessing a controlled substance.

Cape Girardeau police were given a tip that an apartment where Wiley and the other man were located contained drugs. The tip said that the narcotics were stored in the refrigerator of the apartment.

The Cape Girardeau prosecuting attorney attempted to obtain a search warrant, was was unable to locate a judge. Police entered the apartment without the warrant and arrested its occupants, and officers found a plastic bag containing morphine and barbiturates.

In January of 1973, Wiley was convicted on each count and was sentenced to serve two concurrent five-year terms. He appealed, contending police were without probable cause to arrest him, that the search and seizure was in violation of his constitutional rights and that police obtained no search warrant.

The court, in a 5-2 decision, disagreed with the defendant, saying police must determine if there is probable cause to make an arrest without a warrant and that that consideration, "is not to be determined by hindsight by legal technicians."

The Rev. Gus Parris

Ex-con turned minister to speak here

The program at the monthly Sikeston Ministerial Alliance meeting Thursday at 10 a.m. in Trinity Baptist Church, Highway 61 North, will feature the Rev. Gus Parris, superintendent of the United Rescue Mission in Poplar Bluff, and will be open to the public.

The Rev. Mr. Parris will discuss the work of the rescue mission and its benefits to the community, a subject the Ministerial Alliance feels may be of interest to many in the Sikeston community.

Born in New York City, the Rev. Mr. Parris is an exconvict with a history of drug addiction and alcoholism. He was converted in 1968 at an outdoor evangelical meeting in Morristown, N. J., and almost immediately he began to seek converts among the derelicts on New York City's infamous Bowery district.

Believing that God was calling him into the special ministry of rescue, he responded by entering a training program at the world's oldest rescue mission, the Jerry McAuley Water Street Mission in downtown New York City. In 1970, while at the McAuley Mission, he received a call to direct the United Gospel Rescue Mission at Poplar Bluff, an interdenominational program.

The Rev. Parris is married and the father of an 8-year-old daughter. A member of First Baptist Church in Poplar Bluff, he was first licensed and then ordained to the ministry by that church in September 1971.

Young farmers set meeting

BENTON — The Scott County Young Farmers organization will meet at 8 p.m. Friday in the circuit courtrom at the Courthouse. Guest speaker will be Lowell Mohler, secretary and director of national legislative affairs for Missouri Farm Bureau.

Joe Diebold, chairman, said the meeting is open to all area farmers interested in discussing state and national legislative concerns with Mohler.

State to get grant

JEFFERSON CITY--Gov. Christopher S. Bond and Robert J. Dunn, director of the St. Louis Region of the U.S. Civil Service Commission, jointly announced Monday the approval of a $262,000 federal grant to the State of Missouri.

The award is authorized under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970 and provides funds for the following services and assistance:

(1) Development of management capabilities for Hayti Heights, two other fourth class cities and four villages--all newly incorporated and predominantly black.

(2) Assist county administrators across the State to improve their general management capabilities as well as provide them with written guidelines or models on modern personnel practices;

(3) Provide technical assistance through the Missouri Municipal League in the area of city management to communities under 20,000 population which do not have professional administrators on their staffs.

(4) Statewide consortium of cities and counties as well as the State Division of Personnel for cooperative validation of employment tests.

(5) Funds to cover one of two circuit-riding city manager positions established by the Mark-Twain Regional Planning Commission.

(6) Improvement of personnel selection methods used by agencies under the State Merit System.

(7) Development of a uniform and effective personnel system for agencies not covered by the State Merit System.

(8) Coverage of administration cost of FY 75 Statewide IPA Plan.

The purpose of the IPA is to help state and local governments improve the quality of public service through upgrading personnel systems and practices. The IPA also eases the way for government officials to move back and forth between the Federal government and state and local governments or institutions of higher learning on temporary assignments.

In addition to grants and personnel mobility, the act provides for the admission of state and local government employes to federal training courses, cooperative recruiting and examining agreements between the federal government and State and local governments, and giving technical assistance in a wide range of personnel services.

HOWARDVILLE

Howardville service station was burglarized early Monday morning of between $30 and $40 in change from a cigarette machine, plus a portable black and white television set, a new battery and other assorted merchandise valued together at $440.

A board had been torn off a back door to inside the station, according to a New Madrid County sheriff's deputy.

County taxes total $28,381

BENTON — Scott County Collector Tom Marshall has announced that $28,381.12 in personal, real estate and merchants taxes was collected during March.

He said all tax collected now is delinquent and will bear a two per cent penalty and four per cent interest if paid during April.

Of the money collected in March, $2,503.81 went to the county, $166.19 went to the state, $1,509.88 went to county special road districts, $553.65 went to the health department, $253.32 to the library, $69.76 to county drainage and $67.31 to the Johnson Grass eradication fund.

Distributions to school districts included: Illmo-Scott City R-1, $4,289.80; Chaffee R-2, $2,929.16; Oran R-3, $1,338.07; Kelly R-4, $2,492.71; Scott County Central R-5, $1,530.97; Sikeston R-6, $10,495.33; and the Kelso-New Hamburg C-7, $81.16.

In the last two generations, Americans have grown one-and-a-half inches, and now at an average height of 5 feet 8.2 inches, they continue to be the world's tallest people except for the Watusi and Dinkas in East Africa.

Safeway's (the) place to buy Meat

The Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.
Wednesday, April 16, 1975

We've always taken pride in selling the very finest steaks, chops and roasts. We cut only USDA Choice Beef Steak and Beef Roast at Safeway.

Each cut of this fine meat is close-trimmed to remove excess waste and fat. You get better eating meat on the table; you save money, too!

Perhaps, when you were growing up, you heard your mother say, "Safeway's the place to buy meat." Other things change, but this is still true.

Today in U.S. history

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, April 16, the 106th day of 1975. There are 259 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1917, Communist leader Vladimir Lenin returned to Russia after years of exile to assume leadership of the Russian revolutionary movement.

On this date —

In 1521, Martin Luther arrived at Worms, Germany, after being summoned to appear before the Diet to justify his attacks on the Catholic Church.

In 1789, George Washington left Mount Vernon for his inauguration as the first president of the United States.

In 1906, the Pacific cable was completed between the United States and China.

In 1947, more than 500 persons died in fires and explosions at Texas City, Texas, after a French freighter loaded with nitrate blew up.

In 1967, in South Vietnam, a U.S. bombing mistake cost the lives of 14 at a village housing defectors from the Communist side.

Ten years ago: Congressional sources disclosed that te Johnson administration had decided to build a small atomic submarine to carry out the first extensive exploration of ocean bottoms.

Five years ago: Seventy-two persons were killed in an Alpine avalanche that plunged down on a children's sanitarium at Sallanches, France.

One year ago: The Pentagon told a Senate committee it had found $266 million dollars extra for military aid to South Vietnam for the year
